Local Cold Wave Drops Mercury to 3 Below at 7 A.M.

Day Is Coldest Feb. 8th
City Engineer Says;
Dec. 10th

Winter gave the area a surprise, up in the cars last night and today and the frigid winds, carrying the sudden cold wave, dropped the mercury to three below zero by 7 a.m.

Today was the coldest Feb. 8 in the records of the city engineer's office, but it failed to come near the record for the month. That was established on Feb. 16, 1943 when the mercury hit 18 below zero.

This, however, was the coldest day this winter and the last time an area thermometer got near zero was on Dec. 10, when the low was five degrees above zero.

Cold winds started the change drastically late yesterday afternoon and at about 5 p.m. the mercury was down to 20 degrees above. It dropped to six above by midnight and continued downward to the low at 7 a.m.

The warmest Feb. 8 in the city engineer's records was in 1937 when the mercury hit a low of 39 and a high of 57 degrees.

Attlee Claims Gain
Watford, Eng., Feb. 8 (AP)—Prime Minister Clement Attlee said today that Britain, under his Labor party, has made greater strides toward recovery than any other European nation. Opening his campaign for votes in the Feb. 15-16 general election, the 67-year-old premier declared that the British people had been through this difficult time and other things we could not have gotten through without it is the magnitude of the British spirit.

"I think one of the reasons for the great spirit shown is that they believe that we have been carrying out the principle of fair shares."

Undercover Activity High
Washington, Feb. 8 (AP)—Russian undercover activity in the United States was reported today at an all-time high. The report came from a lawmaker familiar with evidence on the Klaus Fuchs case. Fuchs, a German-born physicist, was charged with passing atomic secrets to the Soviet Union. He was sentenced to 30 years in prison.

Cabinet Is Approved
Paris, Feb. 8 (AP)—Premier Georges Bidault's revamped cabinet was approved today by a shaky vote in the French National Assembly. But his coalition government appeared headed for trouble and possible downfall. Although the cabinet was approved 225 to 185, Socialists, conservatives and Communists all voted against it.

Treasury Receipts
Washington, Feb. 8 (AP)—The post office of the treasury Feb. 6 net budget receipts $168,145,634.01. Budget expenditures were $179,388,468.88. Cash balance $1,071,538,000.51. Customs receipts for month $1,548,277.36. Budget receipts for month $1,045,121,946.60. Budget expenditures for month $1,179,609,000.45. Budget deficit $1,134,477,053.85. Total debt $254,700,913,719.18. Increase under previous $1,703,810,721.74. Gold assets $21,949,564,709.37.

Will Open Probe Into Coal Crisis

No One Discusses What Transpires at Meeting With Presidential Group

Idleness Increases
Over 25,000 Persons Boost Total Hit by Strike

Washington, Feb. 8 (AP)—John L. Lewis called Coal Man George H. Love a "liar by the clock" at a presidential board's hearing today on the coal contract dispute.

Lewis flared up explosively at the first question Board Chairman David L. Cole put to Love, the spokesman for the soft coal operators.

Cole asked whether Lewis ever had presented any specific contract demands to the mine operators. Love said he was informed by Cyrus S. Ching (federal mediator) that "it was the mine bargaining technique to say that 'you men own the mines, I have the men in the palm of my hands—what do you bid?'"

Lewis jumped up and leveled off at Love across the table: "That's an infamous and deliberate lie. I said we represented the men. I say to you George Love, you're a liar by the clock."

Cole tried to interrupt. Love protested: "I don't want to go into personalities, Mr. Cole."

"Why not?" Lewis shouted. "Why not?"

Cole restored calm and the hearing went on.

The chairman announced just before the Lewis outburst that the board would not take formal testimony, but instead would question the principals in public hearings to determine the facts.

In this way, Cole said, the board could speed up its report to the president "if one is necessary."

He did not elaborate on that statement. President Truman has asked for a report by Monday.

The board had some informal sessions with Lewis and the coal operators yesterday.

Board Starts Probe
Washington, Feb. 8 (AP)—Presidential fact finders, working at top speed, today turned from informal sessions with John L. Lewis and the bituminous mine operators to launch the official part of their probe into the soft coal crisis.

The three-man board met with the principals in the tangled dispute yesterday amid mounting reports of critical coal shortages across the country.

No one who attended the preliminary meetings would say what went on.

But while Lewis told reporters he was "disinclined" to discuss any aspect of the situation, it was reliably reported that both he and the operators had agreed to cooperate with the board in its efforts to get to the bottom of the problem.

In the pension dispute of March-April 1948, it took a court subpoena to get Lewis to meet with a similar board.

The current fact-finding panel has orders to report to President Truman by Monday, to clear the air.

Food Brokers Find US Spuds Are Too High

New Orleans, Feb. 8 (AP)—While the government offers surplus potatoes to farmers at one cent a hundred pounds, American food brokers are buying Canadian spuds because they find the American price-supported tubers too costly.

The situation came to light here yesterday when a million pounds of Canadian potatoes were unloaded from a boat.

J. Segari, New Orleans food broker and consignee of the Canadian potatoes, told newsmen: "I don't know why I can buy choice potatoes from Canada and have them shipped down here cheaper than I can buy them from Maine or Idaho—but I know I can do it."

"I'm not alone in importing the less expensive Canadian potatoes. Why a boatload comes into Savannah, Ga., Tampa, Fla., Jacksonville, Fla., and other places about every two weeks."

He said the situation is something like this: The government guarantees American farmers a certain price for potatoes. When they can't get that much on the open market, they sell them to the government.

Then the government, stuck with the surplus, offers them back to the farmers at give-away prices for stock food. But first it dyes them so they can't be used for human food.

Go to Canada
Meanwhile American brokers go to Canada for their stocks.

Segari said Idaho potatoes would cost him $4.40 a 100 pounds delivered in New Orleans. He would not divulge what the Canadian potatoes of equal grade cost him but said he was selling them at $4 a 100 pounds in job lots after paying an import duty of 75 cents a 100 pounds.

Water-freight charges from Canadian ports to New Orleans run 60 cents a 100 pounds. Last week the government announced in Washington it would dump between 25,000,000 and 40,000,000 bushels of potatoes it acquired in price support operations.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan said they would be disposed of in the greatest quantities were grown. He authorized their sale at one cent a 100 pounds to farmers who are expected to use them for livestock feed or fertilizer.

Originally they cost the government an average of $1.25. Last week the government cut the support price on the 1950 crop to $1.02 a bushel, an immediate drop of nine cents.

The government has about 50,000,000 bushels of potatoes acquired through purchases under the law requiring support of farm commodity prices. Present law requires support at 60 per cent of parity—the price the law says is fair to both potato growers and processors.

Brannan estimates prices supports on the 1949 potato crop will cost the government between $80,000,000 and $100,000,000.

Sky Top Woman Bitten by Fox as She Seeks Her Cat

Animal Thought Rabid
Shot by Musician in Yard of Lodge; to Examine Head

Mrs. Henry Sablin Lenke of Box 55, Route 4, Kingston, was bitten by a fox last evening when she went to the yard to bring in a cat. The fox apparently was rabid.

Mrs. Lenke and her husband reside at Sky Top Lodge a short distance off the Ontario Trail a couple of miles from Kingston. The fox was shot with a rifle by Olaf Windigstad, famous philharmonic orchestra conductor, who also resides at Sky Top Lodge.

Today the head was taken to Albany by Ulster County Department of Health officials for examination.

Mrs. Lenke was treated by Dr. E. E. Smith of this city and today will undergo further treatment since it is assumed that the fox was rabid.

So far as is known this is the first human to be bitten by a fox during the recent epidemic, although several persons have been attacked by foxes.

Harry E. Danner, director of the Ulster County Health Department Division of Environmental Sanitation, said the authorities had been most fortunate in that the animal had been shot and could be examined to determine definitely whether it was rabid.

In most cases where a person is bitten the offending animal escaped during the excitement. Through the presence of mind of Mrs. Lenke in sounding a call for help, and the expert marksmanship of Mr. Windigstad, in this case the animal was shot through the body with a rifle bullet and the head and body well preserved for examination.

Mrs. Lenke had gone to the yard of her home to bring in a pet cat when the fox attacked her. She defended herself but was bitten on the hand when the fox jumped at her. After attacking Mrs. Lenke the fox remained in the locality and when Mr. Windigstad came from the house it attempted to attack him.

The fox was turned over to Dr. Hoppenstedt of the county Department of Health and today was taken by a county health employee to Albany for laboratory examination.

Sky Top Lodge is located just off the Ontario Trail on a lane which runs from the Ontario Trail-Sawkill road.

Fare Increase Asked
New York, Feb. 8 (AP)—A wage boost and a back-pay award of $1,100,000 recommended by an arbitrator for employees of the Third Avenue Transit System has caused the bankrupt firm to demand a fare increase.

The trustees of the company, now in reorganization, under bankruptcy laws, have asked that fares be increased from eight to 10 cents if the arbitrator's ruling is approved by Federal Judge Samuel H. Knufman, who is handling the reorganization.

Prof. Emanuel Stein, the mayor's special arbitrator between the trustees and the C.T.O. Transport Workers Union, announced his decision yesterday.

Insurance Department Plans To Ask Doubling of Coverage
Albany, N. Y., Feb. 8 (AP)—The State Insurance Department will recommend next week that the legislature double the present $5,000 to $10,000 minimum automobile liability insurance coverage, reliable sources predict.

The sources said last night the department would claim that current accident settlements awarded justified a boost in $10,000-$20,000 in the minimum required coverage on passenger cars.

Under the State's Financial Responsibility Law, an owner is required to take out insurance only after his car has been involved in an accident in which a person is killed or injured or in which property damage totals $50 or more.

Home-Rule Stressed For State's Towns

New York, Feb. 8 (AP)—New York state's two top executives have urged town officials throughout the state to safeguard local home-rule as a buffer against encroachments of big government.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley dwelt on this theme in talks yesterday and last night to the 18th annual meeting of the Association of Towns of New York. The three-day meeting winds up today.

Gov. Dewey advised the delegates: "Tell your constituents that if they keep the powers of government at home, government's costs will be less, taxpayer's pay will be larger and community education, health, sanitation, police and other services will be better."

11th Ward Would Use Schoonmaker Name for School

Consideration of the name, Marius Schoonmaker School, for the proposed new grade school on the former Sahler property, was asked in a letter from Eleventh Ward Alderman Abram D. Relyea, and read at last night's Common Council session.

The letter was filed and on motion of Eighth Ward Alderman Joseph N. Bruck, a copy was ordered forwarded to the Board of Education.

Alderman Relyea stressed that Marius Schoonmaker had been an outstanding local educator and civic leader and was elected to the New York State Senate in 1949 and United States Congress in 1950.

A trustee on the Board of Kingston Academy, he had served three terms as a director of the Village of Kingston, before its incorporation as a city, and he was elected each time as president of the board of directors.

One of the original incorporators of the Board of Education of Kingston in 1953, he served as first president of the board, he said, and School No. 7 was planned and built under his direction.

The author of Schoonmaker's History of Kingston, he had served also as the New York State Superintendent of Banks, he owned and lived on the land which later became known as the Sahler property, and he was the last private owner of the Senate House which he turned over to the state.

Resolutions offered at the session were:

Alderman Schachter-Relyea: That a light be placed on McDow street between Ann and Chambers streets, because lighting there is now insufficient and residents of the area are complaining. Referred to the B.P.W.

Carroll—One-hour parking restrictions be established on the south side of the railroad tracks on Greenkill avenue from No. 84 to Prospect street, between 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., daily except Sundays and holidays; to traffic control committee.

Smith—A stop-sign be installed at Spruce and Ravine streets; traffic control; traffic control committee.

Storons—Stop-sign be installed on Smith avenue at Downs street and on Elmendorf at Smith avenue; B.P.W.

Block From Railroad Avenue to Go Down Soon; Excavation Starts in March

Work on the demolition of four buildings in the block on Broadway between Railroad avenue and Thomas street in conjunction with the Broadway crossing project is expected to start within a week or 10 days, an official of Lipsett, Inc., contractor, said today.

Razing of part of the Canfield Supply Co., building at 334-336 Broadway, began a few days ago, and some of the other buildings are expected to be down before workmen begin on the excavation of Broadway at about March 15.

Other buildings to be cleared from the area include the former Cook's Hotel at Broadway and Railroad avenue, the Arace building near the middle of the block and the Rafalowsky building at Broadway and Thomas street.

Demolition of several buildings on the south side of Broadway was completed last fall under a separate contract and Lipsett, Inc., general contractor, then began on the relocation of city sewer and water lines on Greenkill avenue.

A first step of the contractor was the filling in of the former trolley tunnel under Railroad avenue, and the moving in of machinery to advance preliminary phases of the project.

The engineer for the contractor announced at a session of local officials and engineers several weeks ago that it planned to have all preliminary work completed for start of the main excavation by the middle of March.

Work on the main excavation entails the rerouting of traffic around the central Broadway area. This calls for the construction of temporary streets north and south of Broadway, and for a general rerouting of local and through traffic in the city, which will be largely a local problem.

Hawaii Is Surveyed
Pearl Harbor, Feb. 8 (AP)—The fourth U. S. joint chiefs of staff today began a first-hand survey of the military picture in Hawaii.

They are on their way home from Japan, Okinawa, Guam and Kwajalein. The four top commanders flew in yesterday for the three days of conferences with Hawaii's military chiefs and inspection of installations. Gen. Omar Bradley, addressing the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce said U. S. is maintaining as strong a defense as possible in the Pacific. He said, "We will spend the nation into bankruptcy."

Official Is Arrested
Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 8 (AP)—An official of the Shelton Demolition Corp. of New York was arrested and another official is being sought on a larceny warrant charging unlawful conversion in the sale of scrap salvaged from the Garden pier. Director Capt. Emanuel Eckstein said yesterday.

Eckstein said the arrested man was Saul Greenberg, 34, of Flushing, N. Y. The president of the demolition firm, Murray Shelton, also of Flushing, is being sought, he added. Atlantic City had contracted with the company to raze the Garden pier, which was severely damaged in the 1944 hurricane.

Girl Is Electrocuted
Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 8 (AP)—A 22-year-old New York girl was electrocuted early today when she accidentally walked into a guy wire charged with 4,000 volts of electricity. Police Detective C. G. Miller identified her as Miss Lee Shinkman of Brooklyn. Miller said the freak accident occurred after she stepped out of her car and started to walk toward the apartment where she was vacationing. She bumped against a utility pole guy wire about 3:30 a.m. Neighbors saw the flash and called the fire department.

Pari-Mutuel Betting
Albany, N. Y., Feb. 8 (AP)—Revenue from state taxes on pari-mutuel betting on horse races would be used exclusively for construction and maintenance of schools and hospitals.

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

THE LONE EAGLE of 1927 was Charles Augustus Lindbergh, an obscure airmail and barnstorming pilot who overnight became America's top hero. The whole world waited breathless when Lindy took off from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., on that morning of May 20, 1927, and headed his plane, the "Spirit of St. Louis," toward Paris, fame and fortune. The drama of the handsome young flier tackling the broad Atlantic alone in a tiny monoplane captured the world's imagination. On the evening of May 21, word flashed to the world that he had landed near Paris, totally unprepared for the wild reception that greeted him there. "We made it," said the quiet, modest flier whom other pilots called "Slim." "We" meant Lindy and the plane, which thereafter became a personality in its own right.

Flames had all but leveled both his barns when firemen arrived.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York, Feb. 7 (AP)—You may be a little uncertain yourself about things you'll be slow in buying if your income drops, but your government isn't. It knows what products will make you—the average American, not the individual—open or shut your pocketbook as times get better or worse.

This interests the businessmen, as well as the government, and should interest investors, too. The manufacturing and service industries want to know what products can look for the biggest sales drop if the national income recedes, and what ones will ride along about as ever.

People's buying habits change, and one-time luxuries become necessities. But the Department of Commerce has surveyed buying habits since 1929, in bad and good times, in war and peace times, as they relate to the money available for purchases. The department calls that the sensitivity of goods and services to income.

It finds that the sensitivity of expenditures for cemetery lots, hockey tickets and foot doctors is less than the average for all goods and services—that is, you go on spending just about as much as ever on these things, whether your income goes up or down. But when times get tough you really retrench on such expenses as the opera, eating out, or buying yachts.

The spending for food is more sensitive than the average for all goods and services, the department finds, and the total spent on food changes in exact ratio to the amount of money on hand. That is, if the nation's disposable personal income goes down 10 per cent, the amount spent on food goes down 10 per cent, too.

Part of this is due to the change in food prices. Part is due to the public's eating less caviar and steak, more spaghetti and stew, when money is hard to come by. Most sports and entertainments have average sensitivity to income. But there is some variation. Hockey games and movies are least affected by changing national income. About average are golf, baseball, dancing, shooting, skating and swimming. But the public gets more careful about billiards and bowling, flying private planes and photography. And it really cuts back on legitimate theatre and opera tickets, and especially on buying them from ticket brokers.

Professional services vary widely as income totals shift. Spending on legal advice varies least. Next come foot doctors, barbers, physicians, beauty parlor operators and veterinarians. The public retrenches at an average rate for dentists, osteopaths, masseurs and chiropractors, but spends much less on practical nurses and midwives.

Shoe and eye-glass purchases respond to income changes at about an average rate of sensitivity. Clothing retrenchment is above average. And jewelry, watches and luggage feel the change most.

The buying of china, glassware, tableware and utensils are least affected among household purchases. Refrigerator and washing machine sales keep step with changes in national income. A more than average slowdown is noted in the sale of carpets, furniture and stoves, as income falls, and a much greater one in the sale of pianos, radios, phonographs and records.

Above average sensitivity to income changes is shown in the sales of tires, tools and autos, with tops in sensitivity going to boats and pleasure aircraft.

Ranging from very little change to slightly below average sensitivity are expenditures for water, gas, electricity, telephones, fuel, newspapers, gasoline, oil, tobacco, drugs and toilet articles.

The Commerce Department notes that durable goods as a class are more sensitive to income changes than any other. Non-durable goods are about average. Service services, as a whole, are below average.

But when your income drops, the services you retrench on more than the average are those connected with the care of clothing—ing loosely.

Best Entries in TB Association School Project

An announcement was made Monday at a report of the 1949 School Project entered on by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association. The judges, representing the newspapers, the health and education departments, and the Board of Directors of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association, were Dr. F. Netter, Mrs. Vera D. Goe, Dr. Robert H. Brand, B. C. Van Lenn and Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb.

The judges were most generous in their praise for the effort and expense which was made by the many students who participated in this press project. This is the 13th year that school papers all over the country have taken part in the health education program of their respective tuberculosis associations. The Tuberculosis Association believes that such a program is an extremely valuable one in giving information about tuberculosis—the disease that kills more people between the ages of 15 and 34 than any other disease. They also recognize that the school press is one of the most powerful means of spreading this valuable health information.

The three best entries chosen from the various Ulster county high school papers were:

A news story—"Ulster County Organization Fights TB in Local Communities" by Florence Friedman, Dune Runner, Kingston High School.

Feature article—"How Can We Help Prevent Tuberculosis?" by Mayde Cushing, The Blue and White, Walkkill Central School.

An editorial—"Is There a Santa Claus?" by Esta Ekelstein, The Quill, Ellen Hill High School.

Honorable mention was given to an editorial appearing in Nepa High School, New Paltz Central School, entitled "How We Can Prevent Tuberculosis."

Entries were judged on accuracy of fact, clearness, originality, and journalistic style. Evidence of careful research and intelligent understanding were given first consideration when the entries were judged.

The contest was co-sponsored by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association, and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. The schools participating in the project carried staff-written articles, editorials, and cartoons on "Our Community Program for Tuberculosis Control" and "How We Can Help Prevent Tuberculosis."

The three best entries from Ulster county will now be forwarded to the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health. Nine outstanding entries from each state can be forwarded to the National Tuberculosis Association for judging. These papers will be judged by a nationally selected committee of health educators and journalists. Each school whose entry is approved by the national committee will be awarded a certificate of honor.

Dams Save the Fish

Santa Anna, Calif. (AP)—Members of the Isaak Walton League have worked out a check dam project which permits year-around living conditions for stream fish in this water-scarce area. Using funds from Santa Anna county's share of fish and game law fines, the group built 27 small dams, in series of three and four, to back up water into pools.

The Ruminator ventures, therefore, to discuss this article with you. Space will only permit references to Professor Slichter's "second-half" comments.

In considering the outlook after July, 1950—which he asserts is "quite uncertain"—Professor Slichter states that "only prompt and well-planned policies by business and government will prevent a slow drop in private investment to a halt and cause consumer expenditures to rise sufficiently to offset the gradually weakening stimulus from the insurance dividend to veterans."

Everyone welcomes efficient business planning, but it is unfortunate that we always seem in these discussions today to come up against the idea of "government planning."

Professor Slichter notes that cash outlays by the federal government in the coming fiscal year will drop off by at least $4 billion. Inasmuch as this would more than offset any increase in outlays by state and local governments he is concerned over this loss of government spending. Most of us would regard any saving in government expenditures as a good omen.

In discussing the federal deficit Professor Slichter believes this will take care of itself "within several years," merely by a normal increase in the national output of goods and products (from which federal revenues will be increased). He feels that an attempt to balance the budget "might prevent the supply of money from increasing rapidly enough to prevent a decline in prices and the development of chronic unemployment."

It would seem fair to interpret this to mean that only by constant and persistent inflation can we prevent a recession. Yet, over the long run history demonstrates conclusively that these boot-strap methods inevitably lead to a disastrous smash-up. An easy-

COOKED A FINE DINNER; THEN THREW IT TO DOG

One lady recently stated that she used to throw her own dinner to the dog most of the time. It made her sick just to look at anything to eat. She was swollen with gas, full of bloated, had headaches, felt worn out and was badly constipated. Finally she got INNER-AID and says she now eats everything in sight and digests it perfectly. Bowels are regular and normal. She is enjoying life once more and feels like "some other woman" since taking this New Compound.

INNER-AID contains 12 Great Herbs: they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-AID. Sold at all drug stores.

THE RUMINATOR

A Column of Contrary Opinion
By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

"One hesitates to take up cudgels with so eminent an economist as Professor Sumner Slichter of Harvard. A prolific forecaster of 'things to come,' he has indeed been right in his economic reckonings since the war. He has been 'contrary' to the widespread forebodings of a postwar depression."

In his latest, however, printed in the New York Times Sunday Magazine, February 5, Professor Slichter not only joins the practically unanimous 1950 opinion of a bright, first-half and drooping, second-half, but offers some strange heresies on what is needed to keep the ship of economics on an even keel.

The Ruminator ventures, therefore, to discuss this article with you. Space will only permit references to Professor Slichter's "second-half" comments.

In considering the outlook after July, 1950—which he asserts is "quite uncertain"—Professor Slichter states that "only prompt and well-planned policies by business and government will prevent a slow drop in private investment to a halt and cause consumer expenditures to rise sufficiently to offset the gradually weakening stimulus from the insurance dividend to veterans."

Everyone welcomes efficient business planning, but it is unfortunate that we always seem in these discussions today to come up against the idea of "government planning."

Professor Slichter notes that cash outlays by the federal government in the coming fiscal year will drop off by at least $4 billion. Inasmuch as this would more than offset any increase in outlays by state and local governments he is concerned over this loss of government spending. Most of us would regard any saving in government expenditures as a good omen.

In discussing the federal deficit Professor Slichter believes this will take care of itself "within several years," merely by a normal increase in the national output of goods and products (from which federal revenues will be increased). He feels that an attempt to balance the budget "might prevent the supply of money from increasing rapidly enough to prevent a decline in prices and the development of chronic unemployment."

It would seem fair to interpret this to mean that only by constant and persistent inflation can we prevent a recession. Yet, over the long run history demonstrates conclusively that these boot-strap methods inevitably lead to a disastrous smash-up. An easy-ing off of the price-level—a deflating of the inflation—would appear less hazardous for the long future than continuing to inflate the economy.

Pointing to our expanding economy, Professor Slichter points out that we require an expanding money supply (admittedly) and he calculates that at least $120 billion will need to be added in the next 30 years—based upon our previous growth.

In accounting normally for most of this expansion the professor comes out about $30 billion short. How to get this added $30 billion was quite a shock to this writer: "Hence," asserts Professor Slichter, "an increase in the public debt would probably be the best way to obtain the remaining $30 billion of new money. This would mean that during a 30-year period the budget would need to be in the red, on the average, about $1 a year."

When you consider that the debt is now $257 billion, these calculations place it at $287 billion 30 years hence—instead of our witnessing some effort to reduce.

This does not allow either for any other deficits the government may incur in the meantime. Inasmuch as the odds decidedly "guarantee" some sort of an economic upheaval within 30 years—unless we have found utopia—then so far as the Ruminator can see the federal debt is poised for a great flight indeed. Professor Slichter also expects the "national product" to expand faster than the debt, thus proportionately the debt will shrink.

Concluding his arguments in favor of adding to the money supply by increasing debts Professor Slichter adds this pregnant sentence: "It is just as important that the government deficit be not too small as that it be not too large." Surely an extraordinary statement from so noted an economist.

The article closes with the further disturbing thought that "it is uncertain whether business and government will act soon enough or vigorously enough" to offset the other losses in business and private spending.

It is indeed frightening when prominent men in the thinking business lend their support to the theory of boot-strap economics—which can only lead to broken straps and busted pocketbooks.

Zelle Appointed Census Assistant at Kingston

J. Robert Zelle of 268 Washington avenue has returned from the training school in New York city to assume his duties as administrative assistant at the Kingston District Office of the Bureau of the Census.

Zelle was born in Kingston, educated in the local school system, and was associated with Walter H. Carpenter in the clothing business on North Front street for 15 years until he left to enter the armed services in World War 2. More recently he was employed by Union Fern and prior to that, he was an employee of Electro Incorporated.

He will be in charge of all administrative personnel and records at the Kingston Census Office until the census is completed in the counties of Ulster, Greene, Schoharie, Columbia and Dutchess. Zelle is a member of the First Dutch Reformed Church and Wilkewick Hose Company, No. 1. Politically, he is a Democrat and is well known throughout the city.

Czech Jews Emigrate

Prague (AP)—Between 22,000 and 24,000 Czech Jews have emigrated from this country since May, 1948. Jewish sources here reported recently. About 17,000 remain. Only three or four thousand have gone to countries other than Israel. Most of the emigration has been arranged by the American Joint Distribution Committee, Jewish philanthropic and welfare organization. The "Joint" recently announced it was cutting its staff in Czechoslovakia because its "work has been pretty much done."

"Joint" spokesmen said, however, that Jewish doctors, dentists and other professional men have not been able to obtain passports in the last five months. "This is understandable because there is a shortage of these men in Czechoslovakia at the present," these spokesmen said. Of the 17,000 Jews left in the country, "many have applied for passports to emigrate to Palestine," Jewish spokesmen said, "but it is getting harder to obtain them."

Hudson Reduces Prices; New Cars On Display Here

Substantial reduction in prices on all body types of the new 1950 Hudson Super and Custom Commodore series, to be introduced Friday, February 10, were announced today by A. E. Barit, president of the Hudson Motor Car Company.

Prices of these cars are considerably lower than last year's models with reductions ranging from a minimum of $87.50 up to $166.50. Mr. Barit said, "These are not token price reductions but represent substantial savings to the customers in the price of the new cars. It would like to stress that every body type in the 1950 line of Hudson Super and Custom Commodore series is affected."

"These substantial price reductions announced today are the result of Hudson's constant efforts to offset rising costs. We have, by engineering ingenuity and production efficiency, been able to include many new refinements in quality, styling and engineering and still reduce our overall costs. These price reductions on our new 1950 Super and Custom Commodore models are in line with Hudson's traditional policy of constantly improving its cars and at the same time passing savings along to the motoring public," Mr. Barit said.

"The cars retain Hudson's exclusive 'step-down' design, the most modern construction ever introduced by any automobile company, which gives the lowest center of gravity and the safest, steepest road hugging ride ever known. They have more refinements, more new features and more beauty. Hudson has spent millions of dollars in planning, designing and producing these cars. By reducing our prices we have made it possible for more motorists to enjoy the ultimate in safety and in driving and riding comfort," he said.

The public is cordially invited to visit the showrooms of Kingston Hudson Inc., 525 Broadway, Kingston, during the week beginning Friday, February 10, to view the new luxurious 1950 Super and Commodore models.

New Storms Are Brewing

Berlin, Feb. 8 (AP)—New storms were brewing today for Berlin's troubled trade with the west as minor delays again held up trucks on the Soviet zone frontier at Helmstedt. By 11 a. m. a back log of 70 trucks was piled up, waiting to proceed to Berlin, while another 70 awaited clearance westward. The Russians allowed eight to 10 trucks an hour through in each direction yesterday, but this morning they cut the rate to six or seven. Charles A. Dix, U. S. transport chief in Berlin said such variations were "not too important." He said he was more concerned about severe Soviet restrictions on the classes of goods permitted to cross through their zone.

City Council . . .

May 5, 1949 is for injuries suffered by Mrs. Novig in a fall last March 28 near the county clerk's office at Main and Fair streets. Novig seeks $1,000 for the loss of services of her wife and she seeks $5,000 for injuries. Information filed, claims that the sidewalk "in front of and around the county clerk's office was 'unsafe and dangerous,' that concrete was left loose and that Mrs. Novig fell sustaining injuries of the body, head and face, and other injuries. A claim of $20.25 filed by Joseph S. Forie, 44 Charlotte Place, for a broken automobile spring, was referred to the corporation counsel and auditing committee. Forie, said in a letter that the spring was broken Jan. 3 when his car ran into a hole on Huny street.

Four petitions for amending the city's zoning ordinance were referred for the first time to the newly created planning board. They were also referred to the council's laws and rules committee, which hereafter gives such petitions second consideration. John F. Sottile petitioned for a business zone designation on a property at 347 Washington avenue for the purpose of conducting a dressmaking and ladies' apparel shop. Attorney Kirtland F. Snyder, petitioning for The Freeman Publishing Co., asked business zone designation for a lot facing Pearl street. This is one of three lots of the former Forsyth property, now owned by The Freeman. The other two face Fair street and are considered in the business zone. Harry Willis asked a zoning change for a property at 193

O'Neil street "to conduct a retail store," and the petition was accompanied by several pages of signatures.

Arce Brothers, 562 Broadway asked business zone designation for a property at 19 to 27 Henry street. The petition explained that they were forced to move from the Broadway building because of the railroad crossing elimination project, and planned to do business at the Henry street location. They have a property at 14 to 20 Van Deusen street, which is now in the business zone, the petition said.

The council adopted a recommendation of the Traffic Control Committee to establishing an area at School No. 8 for the loading and unloading of school buses. The move followed complaints, the committee said, that buses were forced to stop out in the street because of cars parked in the area where pupils were discharged from the buses and the children were forced to make their way from the bus to the school between parked cars. A letter from Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk announcing the appointment of Benson V. Miller, 139 Emerson street, as city marshal and probation officer, was filed. The letter explained Miller had "served the necessary 90-day probationary period satisfactorily."

Kits have been put on the market to convert 10-inch television sets into a 16-inch.

All-Parents Jury

father's service revolver from a closet and smuggled it back into the hospital in her jacket. The state charged she fired a practice shot in a woods near her home to make sure she knew what she was doing. The defense cast doubt on this claim.

Back in the hospital, Carol stood from two to five feet away and put one bullet through his brain.

He died a few hours later without regaining consciousness. Forty-eight defense witnesses took the stand and many of them swore Carol was insane when she fired the shot.

Had "Cancer Phobia" Dr. Clifford Moore, star medical witness for the defense, said the girl had a cancer phobia—a fear growing out of a childhood experience when two aunts died of cancer.

This phobia, he said, plus the shock of hearing her father's fate took the girl into an insane blackout during which she could not know the shooting was against the law.

The state's attorney came back with his own psychiatrist, Dr. Joseph Lesko, who swore the girl was sane.

Judge Cornell, in charging the jurors, said Carol must be acquitted, in his opinion, she was insane at the time of the shooting. But the mercy angle should not influence the jury toward sympathy, he warned.

The jury got the case at 3:16 p. m. (E.S.T.) yesterday after nine trial days. The jurors came back twice to hear part of Judge Cornell's charge reread. Then they returned a third time for an hour-long rereading of part of the medical testimony.

They went to dinner and came back at 7:21 p. m. The foreman gave the verdict at 8:07 p. m.

Insurance Plans

Democratic Senator Alfred E. Santangelo of Manhattan. Santangelo proposed last week that a legislative committee investigate what he termed "unfair, deceptive and discriminatory acts" in the insurance of policies.

Condon said the Insurance Department reported to him that only nine specific complaints of discrimination had been received in the last five years.

He added that if policies were being canceled in the Harlem districts of New York, "it might be because of the choice of a broker, rather than because of discrimination."

He explained that insurance companies did not want business from brokers whose record showed a high loss ratio.

Cigarettes in their modern form were introduced into America about 75 years ago.

West Shore Coal Pocket on Fire

Ulster Hose Company called for local assistance when a fire near the top of a coal pocket at the West Shore Railroad round house appeared menacing late Tuesday afternoon.

Central station was notified at 5:02 p. m., and first west Engine No. 1, and later truck No. 1, for the use of a ladder.

The blaze was in the motor of a conveyor on the coal pocket and was quenched before serious damage resulted.

Vapor from a vent pipe on the Kingston West Company building, Main and Fair streets, caused a fire scare about a half hour later. The vapor, at first thought to be smoke, was observed from the surrogate's office in the county.

OFFICE CAT

(Trade Mark Reg.)

By Julius

Start a night club. Please do not stand up while the room is in motion.

Yea, I must say these cats are fine. (When they are alone) How could you say these biscuits are good? You know, I didn't say it. I said I must say so.

I love the great open space. And I love the light rays.

On a quiet day is that a good chuckle and a must.

Never be content with what you are doing or how you are doing it. The quicker you are satisfied the sooner your progress ends.

Barclay Uncle—Baby six weeks old. Talk yet? Proud Father—No no. Not yet. Barclay Uncle—Buy, eh?

YAAAS—WE'RE GOING TO KNOCK THIS WALL THROUGH—PUT THE ENTRANCE OVER THERE—IN THE MEANTIME YOUR DEPARTMENT WILL MOVE IN THE STOREROOM ON THE NINTH FLOOR—ONLY TEMPORARILY, OF COURSE—

HERE WE GO AGAIN—THAT GUY CHANGES THINGS AROUND HERE FASTER THAN MY WIFE CHANGES HER MIND!

HIS TITLE IS ORGANIZATION PLANNER—WHATEVER THAT IS—IF SOMETHING IS RUNNING SMOOTH, HE FOOLS IT UP—

I JUST FIGURED IT OUT—IF HE EVER LETS THINGS ALONE HE'LL BE OUT OF A JOB—

THE ONLY WAY THEY'LL GET HIM OUT OF THAT CUSHY OFFICE OF HIS IS BY BURNING THE JOINT DOWN—

JUST GET SETTLED IN AN OFFICE, AND THIS GUY STARTS GUMMING THINGS UP—

As Pegler Sees It

any of young Republicans, in its blueprint for a better America, is persuaded to offer an ersatz "democratic light" which is a paraphrase of Truman's. These Republicans would enact a federal employment law which in fact democracy and strictly vote-bought whether it be put forth as a state or national proposal. The employer has a right to select his applicant on any sound sufficient to him without obligation to his reason still less to justice. It would be a crime to advertise for a native American or to turn down an immigrant in favor of a native.

Negroes are the only body of our people who are the victims of wide and strong discrimination save and except that it is always very hard for a loyal American to get work in Hollywood if a Communist wants the job. But the discrimination against Negroes is waning and, painful and lamentable though it is, the Republican system of government simply does not permit of such consideration. That is democracy. The right to hire and fire, subject to no limitation by any department of government, was reserved to the people by our Republican Constitution. Already, under the vicious Wagner Act, companies have been forced to pay men wages for long periods who never were hired and never did any work on the ground that they were rejected because they were union men. That is flagrant democracy. The federal government takes money from a political opponent and hands it to one of its own henchmen.

Anti-lynch legislation is now a Republican plank in this program.

although lynching is strictly a local crime and, except the continuing violence of union goons, is almost extinct. There again, democracy is the result of shameless Republicanism.

By BILLY ROSE.

Open Letter

To the bums who burgled my house
Addresses unknown (at this writing)

Dear friends and felons:

A couple of Thursdays ago, while the missus and I were out seeing a show, you laddybucks eased your way into our house and helped yourselves to several handfuls of our shinier knick-knacks, including a wedding ring which belonged to Eleanor's mother.

All in all, it wasn't too bad a haul for half an hour's desultory work, especially since it's not subject to income tax or social security deductions, and at the moment you figure to be a very self-contented set of bums. However, I don't think the self-contentment is going to last long, and with your patience and permission I'd like to tell you why.

For one thing, many of the trinkets you stuffed in your pockets were gifts and had initials carved all over them, and after all the stuff in the papers, even the most fearless fence is apt to shy away from ice as hot as that.

As a consequence, our brooches and stickpins may rotate around in your pockets for quite a spell, and that kind of rattle, I understand from people who know about bums, can be very rattling to bums like you.

For another thing, chances are you're not getting much sleep these nights, and I'm told that gets to be very wearing on a bum's nervous system, which is nothing to write home about to begin with. Besides, as you must know, some of the smartest Hawk-shaws in these latitudes are currently scouring the environs for you, and whether you think so or not, you bums can't possibly have had much schooling at your trepidatious trade as these soft-spoken and soft-soled lads have had at theirs. All in all, I think you'll agree, the chances are pretty good that you heels will wind up cooling your heels in one of the better-known coolers for a long time to come.

Now, don't get me wrong—I'm not lecturing at you bums because you picked a line of work that isn't nice. All I'm trying to establish is that it's bad on the nerves, downright dangerous, and, for the long pull, not especially remunerative. At the same time, however, I don't deny that bums like you have a serious vocational problem and, whether you believe it or not, I'd like to help you get yourselves straightened out.

Obviously, you are the type bums who like gold and the various by-products thereof, like money, and that in itself, I assure you, is nothing to be ashamed of. But what is reprehensible, if you'll pardon my saying so, is the way you go about getting this gold, and among the many reasons why it's reprehensible is that it's reprehensible. In other words, you bums are not smart.

How, you may ask, do underprivileged bums like yourselves go about getting some gold except by taking it away from someone who has it? There, gentlemen, is the crux of the pudding, and my answer is that the obvious alternative is to latch onto some yellow metal that another bum buried—preferably in another century.

To show you how I feel about you bums, I'll go even further and tell you where there's a million dollars of such gold waiting for someone to take it to the bank. The address, and you'd better write it down, is Oak Island, a wile-long hunk of land in Malone Bay up in Nova Scotia, and the Halifax Chamber of Commerce will be glad to show you the exact spot where you can start digging.

If you think I'm kidding, go to the library and you'll find that ever since 1793, a lot of people have known about this buried treasure, and various and varied attempts have been made to bring it to the top. The difficulty, as I get it, is that the chests of loot are in a tunnel which connects up with the bay, and that to bail out this tunnel, one would darned near have to bail out the ocean. However, if I may be permitted a mild joke, you bums figure to know a lot about bail, and you may very well succeed where organized treasure hunts have failed.

No one knows for certain which of the Jolly Roger mobs planted this gold—whether it was Captain Kidd, Sir Henry Morgan or one of the other safe-crackers who used the bay as a rendezvous point. But actually it doesn't matter—the swag can be disposed of legal-like at any pawnshop, with no questions asked about the initials on it and no need to cut in a fence.

For a change, too, your pictures would appear in the papers instead of in post offices, and you'd also have the satisfaction of knowing you succeeded where a pretty smart fellow once failed—Franklin Delano Roosevelt did a little determined shoveling himself or Oak Island in 1909.

Why am I bothering to give you bums all this good advice? Darned if I know, but if you feel at all appreciative, Eleanor and I would take it kindly if you mailed back her mother's wedding ring.

Sincerely,

Do You Remember

by
SOPHIE MILLER

Last month received an interesting story from H. D. Green of North Virginia, who lived some 40 years ago in this section and whose father was connected with the limestone industry. He still belongs to No. 343, Masonic Lodge of Rondout. The following is his adventure on the canal.

The "Canals" as they were called, were to put it mildly, a treacherous lot. When they reached Rondout and had discharged their cargo, they celebrated in no uncertain manner. I remember taking a trip on one of these canal boats. An uncle of mine had acquired one, and he did not operate it himself. He hired a still more distant relative of mine to do so. I was not over 10 years old but I remember quite clearly the momentous occasion. It took four days to go from Rondout to Kerhonkson, 120 miles which was my destination.

Our motive power was a white horse of whom I became very fond during our four-day companionship and most of the way I rode on his back, so that before we arrived at Kerhonkson, his heavy harness had rubbed the seat clean out of my best pants.

The trips from Rondout to Kerhonkson were made with the boats empty. The loaded boats in the opposite direction had the right of way. The horses or mules towing the boats all used the tow-path. The opposite bank of the canal was called the "beard." When one boat met another, the "captain" of the boat traveling empty had to unhitch and allow the loaded boat to proceed, otherwise the towlines would become hopelessly tangled.

Sometimes a man having a faster horse, or a team, would want to pass another boat going in the same direction. There seemed to be no "unwritten law" about this procedure and the request was not always granted. This happened during my memorable trip and the refusal by our skipper resulted in a loud and profane argument. The upshot of this was, that the uncouth character who was following us jumped aboard our craft with an axe and cut the towline while the boat was still moving. This was an unforgivable sin among canal boatmen. This fracas led to a fight which occurred after I left the boat at Kerhonkson. It was talked about for months. In this case, as sometimes happens, "right" did not triumph. My relative was badly beaten and was laid up for some days.

There were several locks between Kingston and Ellenville and to a small boy their operation was a source of wonder. When you entered a lock, the solid wooden gates closed behind the boat. It seemed as if you were at the bottom of a great wall, just a little larger than your boat. Water was then turned into the compartment where you were and you gradually rose to another level. The horse, which had been resting during the half hour or so, it took to complete this operation, was then hitched and you proceeded on this level until you came to another lock and finally into the hills of Pennsylvania. Coming back, of course, the procedure was reversed. There used to be a lock where the railroad station now stands in Kerhonkson.

"Boats were usually navigated by a man and his wife. When the wife was not cooking or doing the weekly washing or ironing she would take her turn at the tiller which kept the boat more or less in the middle of the waterway. You merely leaned, one way or another, against this large wooden handle which controlled the rudder. The boat was usually tied up at night, but you slept in bunks in the tiny cabin which was on the stern. You subsisted mostly on beans and salt pork, or at least that is all the "fare" that I remember. Someone like Carl Carmer should write a history of the old D. & H. Canal. There must be old-timers in Ulster county who could tell some interesting tales," Mr. Greene concludes.

City in Pedestrian Protection Contest

In conjunction with Kingston's entry into the American Automobile Association's national pedestrian protection contest, John Thoben, of the Automobile Club of New York presents Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk with a certificate of commendation. Richard M. Kalish, right, is representative of the Ulster County Safety Council in charge of the contest in Kingston. (Pybman Photo)

Reduce Mishaps Is Aim of Contest in Nation's Cities

The national pedestrian protection contest, sponsored by the American Automobile Club, participated in by Kingston and hundreds of other cities, is to reduce mishaps on the streets and highways and to give proper recognition to communities most successful in such efforts.

In announcing the objectives of the contest, Richard M. Kalish, of the Ulster County Safety Council, which is in charge of the contest here, outlined them as follows:

To reduce the number and severity of accidents on the streets and highways.

To stimulate and assist communities toward successful solutions of their pedestrian and traffic problems.

To give suitable recognition through competition based on population to communities most successful in such efforts.

Each year after the official reports are submitted by cities and communities throughout the country, a committee of nationally known leaders in motor vehicle transportation and traffic safety fields meet in Washington to select the winners, who are awarded special plaques by the A.A.A. The six major phases of the program used as a basis of judging are accident analysis, enforcement, engineering, organization, school safety and public education.

Insurance Outlay Jumps in January

The number of Ulster county residents receiving unemployment insurance benefits jumped 50 per cent in January over the previous month, according to figures released today by the State Department of Labor for the Kingston office of the Division of Placement and Unemployment Insurance.

Anthony C. Hart, employment security manager for the local office, attributed the increase to continued seasonal layoffs in outdoor work and some post-holiday dismissals by retail stores.

The Department of Labor statistics show that a weekly average of 2,193 persons drew unemployment insurance benefits in Ulster county during January, compared to 1,457 in December. The totals include 1,604 persons in Kingston in January, compared to 1,012 in this city in December.

Most of the increase was in the itinerant offices rather than in Kingston. In January, 280 persons drew benefits in Saugerties and 239 in Ellenville. In addition, 40 persons were receiving benefits from other states and 34 veterans were receiving Readjustment Allowances from the federal government.

Placement work was slightly better, according to the report, with 144 persons placed in jobs in January, compared to 110 persons in December. There were 280 new job applicants received at the placement office in January.

During the first part of January, a considerable number of garment trades workers were unemployed, but the majority of them have now returned to work, Hart reported.

Electric automobiles far outnumbered steam and gasoline cars at the New York auto show of 1900.

In Liberty's Name

By FRANK TRIPP

"O Liberty, what things are done in thy name!"

The New York state courts have restrained the Board of Regents from firing subversive school teachers. It's something about personal freedom, but nothing about corruption of the public school room. Something about the sanctity of individual liberty, but nothing about the sanctity of the American home.

Patrick Henry said "give me liberty"—not "them." If Joe Stalin will just hold out, his revolutionists will get theirs a block at a time—but ours will be gone then.

Somewhere in the law a learned justice found a phrase that might operate adversely against a man who really wouldn't place a bomb in the White House, but would do any other underhanded thing to overthrow it.

It is tough to have to prove the word against a Red to protect ourselves against him without having our own courts and lawyers search out technicalities in laws the intent of which cannot be questioned. Even under the questioned law, it must be proved that a barred teacher believes in or is a member of an organization which advocates overthrow of our government by force. Note the qualification "by force."

In plain words that means a person who believes in and advocates revolution, anarchy or whatever violent means might be needed to destroy America.

IT IS APPALLING ENOUGH that even under the questioned act children may be taught by the most radical Red. He only need refrain from joining a radically subversive organization or from publicly proclaiming his belief in it.

He may conceal his beliefs and teach merrily on, inculcating first doubt, then resentment, finally his own revolutionary theories in the minds of our children. By his perverted translation of American history, American ideals, American achievement, as he molds the young minds of future America.

Even the American law only helped a little, by barring those who openly proclaim their desire to destroy America. Beyond that point, if the name of personal liberty, few legislators, state or federal, so far have dared to go.

They have not feared to step beyond that point in the creation of laws against crime far less heinous than the destruction of the lives and liberty of a whole nation.

Laws against all major crimes aim as much to their prevention as to punishment for the act. One need not actually commit murder before the law against it becomes operative against him. Nor assault, robbery, or even misdemeanor.

ONE SUSPECTED TO BE contemplating a crime is observed, restrained and kept away from the person who is threatened. That seems to be consistent, that it has been declared unconstitutional to protect our children against the greatest menace that faces their generation.

In school their young minds are molded the way their teachers would lead them. They are ultra susceptible to the wily, unscrupulous instructor who would deliberately and surreptitiously plant the seed of un-Americanism in their brains. For such a traitor first wins their admiration and confidence, as truly as does a pervert who seeks to snatch and betray them.

There seems to be plenty of ways to circumvent the Constitution where the greed or convenience of politicians are concerned. Leastwise, that's how the lay mind of an overtaxed, government-dominated populace, shorn of countless of its own personal liberties, views it.

CONSTITUTIONAL OR NOT, the parents of children in public schools will not accept acts or court decisions which expose their children to any type of Communism as anything short of treason against the home.

They are thinking that it's about time legislators and courts began to consider first the rights and personal liberties of loyal, law-abiding true Americans; and less about protection of liberties which revolutionists came to our shores to sink behind while they destroy our way of life.

The most dangerous of these are those who would seduce our children—and plunk among our own people who help them. Some of our public schools and colleges need not only house cleaning—they need fumigation.

Theater Plans Program

Stratford-on-Avon, Eng. (AP)—William Shakespeare's sleep copy home town has announced its program for the summer boom days when American and continental tourists traditionally flock here to honor the bard. The 1950 season of plays at the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre will be the longest ever—six and three-quarter months. First play of the season, "Measure for Measure," opens March 9.

LEIBHARDT

Leibhardt, Feb. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Gus Lindgren and children are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Miller in Massachusetts, a war comrade of Mr. Lindgren.

Mrs. Hilda Clark has discontinued her work in Kingston and gone to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Koehler of Rochester Center spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. John Schindler.

Fred Debler and son Fred, Jr. of Long Island spent the week-end at the home here with Mrs. Dobler and uncle.

Henry Quick spent Thursday evening with his cousins Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Markle.

Merritt Kil of West Hurley recently called on his friends in this area.

Alson Chrisey of Pataunkunk called Sunday on his brother and wife Mr. and Mrs. Luther Chrisey of Rochester Center.

Mrs. Janie Wynkoop of Pataunkunk spent Sunday a week ago with Mrs. Celia Kelder of Tabasco.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Quick visited her father Jerry Simpson of Pataunkunk on Sunday.

Plastic Hearts on Store Counters

Red plastic hearts, symbol of the annual Heart Campaign, are now appearing on store counters and in public places in Kingston and in the various communities of Ulster county. They herald the 1950 Heart Campaign which opened February 1. Each heart-shaped collection box is mounted on a card with the legend: "Open Your Heart—Give—Fight Heart Disease." The plastic hearts are being distributed by the Ulster County Heart Committee (an affiliate of the American Heart Association) which will conduct a drive throughout the month of February. A major portion or 70 per cent of the funds will be spent in Ulster county for services in this area. The remaining portion will support a national program of research and education of the American Heart Association in its fight against this country's leading cause of death. According to N. Jansen Fowler, chairman of the Ulster County Heart Committee, 200 plastic hearts will be placed before the public in this county. The heart collection boxes are also appearing simultaneously in cities throughout the United States.

Executions Called Humane

Los Angeles (AP)—The City Animal Regulation Department has devised what it believes is the most humane method for destroying animals. Richard L. Bonner, manager, said the system works on the principle that a reduction in air pressure causes a decrease in the amount of oxygen carried in the blood. Without oxygen, he said, there is first a loss of sensation and consciousness and finally the heart stops. The department already has a pressure chamber unit operating. Bonner said the method stems from altitude tests given pilots. Aviators who underwent pressure chamber tests, he said, described the loss of consciousness when oxygen is reduced as painless.

Through the use of camera-equipped rockets, we may soon see the other side of the moon.

Plans Are Approved
New York Feb. 8 (AP) — The board of trustees of the State University of New York has approved plans for establishing two four-year liberal arts colleges and two two-year community colleges. The action was announced yesterday at a news conference by Alvin C. Smith, president of the State University. The four-year schools would be at Plattsburg and Endicott. The former is known as Champlain College and is at present operated as a two-year institution. The latter is the Triple Cities College, named for the fact it serves the Endicott-Binghamton Johnson City area. The two community colleges will be established at Middletown in Orange county, and Jamestown in Chautauque county, Mr. Smith said.

Police Whistle in Vain

When Claude Jacobson, farm laborer, rode his bicycle home without a red rear light he really started something. The policeman, who whistled at the man, hailed him into court and found him in control of a vehicle while he failed to stop. The magistrate ruling that "a bicycle is not a vehicle because it has no axle," remanded him. The public prosecutor appealed against the decision and Jacobson found himself in the Appeal Court here, listening to the learned lawyers argued it. In the end Jacobson won. The Appeal Court decided that after all a bicycle was not a vehicle.

In 1929 the total investment in the United States was $5,375,310,000.

Supreme Court Is Off Till Tuesday

No cases were ready for trial in Supreme Court this morning but four cases were announced settled on the call. A day calendar was made up for next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock and an adjournment was taken until that time. Tuesday morning at the opening of court a general call will take place beginning at case No. 121.

Justice Elsworth made up a day calendar of ten cases for Tuesday, heading the list is No. 44 and 49, negligence actions brought by Bernard McGovern and another against Joseph Dall Vechia, Jr., and Dall Vechia, Jr., against McGovern.

The following cases on the day calendar were announced settled: No. 75, Dory E. Tewbridge against Louis Wohl, work, labor and services, Lounsbury & Lonslein for plaintiff and Monroe R. Davis for defendant.

No. 80 and 81, Max Blut against John Chial, negligence, and Edith Blut against John Chial, negligence, Lounsbury & Lonslein for plaintiff and Harry C. Desnick for defendant.

No. 182, Pine Hill-Kingston Bus Corporation against T. I. McCormack Trucking Co., Inc., and another, negligence, N. Levan Haver for plaintiff and J. F. Luccy for defendants.

No. 191, Lucell Whitaker against Otto Folgenheimer, negligence, Lounsbury & Lonslein for plaintiff and Reginald V. Spill for defendant.

Following the call of the day calendar Justice Elsworth asked if any attorney present had a case on the general calendar which would be ready for trial either Thursday or Friday, indicating he would hear any case which could be made ready. There being no response, the court adjourned until Tuesday when the jurors will return at 10 o'clock.

Local Death Record

Clifford Addis, 118 Pearl street, died suddenly at his residence this morning, Coroner Ernest A. Kelly, who issued a verdict of death due to "coronary occlusion." Retired for about 15 years from the employ of Richard Tappen, of Kingston, the deceased was a survivor of several nieces and nephews. The funeral will be held from the parlors of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street, Friday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Wiltwyck Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral parlors Thursday between 7 and 9 p. m.

Bernard A. McBride, 21 Wiltwyck avenue died at his home this morning after a long illness. The son of the late Lawrence and Julie Dillon McBride, he retired from the New York Central Railroad in 1945 after 47 years of service as a brakeman on the West Shore and Wallkill Valley divisions of the line. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, Colonial Lodge No. 488, and a member of St. Joseph's Church. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Joseph Gellner and a son, John Ambrose, of Kingston. His wife, Honora Murphy McBride, died in 1928. The funeral will be held from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith avenue Saturday at 9 a. m. and at St. Joseph's Church at 9:30 a. m. where a high Mass of requiem will be offered. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Jesse H. Alexander, 52, owner and operator of the Elms Hotel in Highland, died suddenly in Poughkeepsie on Tuesday. He was also manager of the cafeteria at the De La Salle Company. A native of New York city, he was the son of the late Joel and Helen Seligman Alexander. Besides his wife, Harriet Seligman Alexander, he leaves a son, Joel Alexander, of Cleveland; two daughters, Mrs. Erdell Lawson of Homer, N. Y., and Mrs. John C. Blakely of Poughkeepsie; two brothers, Sidney of Long Island and Milton of Virginia; also three sisters, Mrs. Harry Shoor of New Jersey, Mrs. Harry Hertzberg of Long Island, and Mrs. Murray Clark of New York city; also twelve grandchildren. A member of the Presbyterian Church, he was also affiliated with the Board of Trustees of the Highland Presbyterian Church as chairman; also Adonai Lodge, F. & A. M., the Order of Eastern Star, Dutchess County Shrine Club, and Lloyd Post, American Legion, Ulster County 4 & 8 Society and Sunshine Lodge, Odd Fellows. Funeral services will be held on Friday, Feb. 10, at 2 p. m. at the late home in Highland. The Rev. Oscar Jelsma, pastor of the Highland Presbyterian Church, will conduct the services. Masonic services will be conducted on Thursday evening. Burial will be in Lloyd Cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Edward R. Arnold was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Murphy, 27 Smith avenue, at 9:30 o'clock in St. Peter's Church where a high Mass of requiem was offered by the Rev. Austin V. Carey in the sanctuary. Responses to the Mass were by Edward Cherny assisted by Anne A. Goldrick, organist. The church was filled with sorrowing relatives and friends. Large delegations were present from the Catholic Daughters of America, and the Ladies' Auxiliary of Divisions Numbers 4 and 5 of the A. O. U. During the service, hundreds called at the funeral home to offer sympathy and condolence to the family. The Rev. Joseph A. Geis and the Rev. Henry E. Herdengen called and said prayers for the dead. Monday evening the C. D. of A. assembled at the home and assisted Father Carey in the recitation of the Rosary, followed by the members of the L. A. A. O. H. with the reciting of the Rosary by Mrs. Edward M. Gillen, president. Members of the city departments met in a body and called to pay their respects. The room in which the deceased repose was banked with white flowers and candles, and the spiritual bouquet, receiver were dozens of Mass cards, silent symbols of the esteem in which Mrs. Arnold was held. The bearers were John Russo, Gerald Closkey, James Geary, James Pillsworth, Otto Buckman and Kenneth Geary, all nephews of the deceased. Burial was in Montrose Cemetery.

West Shokan, Feb. 7.—Funeral services for James E. Burgher, who died at his home here following a long illness, were held at 2 p. m. Friday, February 3, from Lasher's Funeral Parlors, Woodstock. There was an unusually large and widespread attendance of relatives and neighbors and friends who gathered to pay a final tribute to a staunch and upright citizen whose generous and genial personality was for many years a community by-word. The Rev. C. F. W. Ahrens, former local Baptist pastor and long time family friend, offered an eloquent and touching prayer, followed by a highly appropriate eulogy by the Rev. Walter A. White who by request of Mrs. Burgher also read an old favorite hymn, "Saved By Grace." There was no singing. Many beautiful floral pieces added visible tribute and silent testimony of love and reverence. Many relatives and friends attended. The committal services at the grave in Westwood Cemetery, conducted by the Rev. White, Jimmy Burgher, whose 64th birthday fell on New Year's Day while he was a patient at the Kingston Hospital, and his sister, Mrs. Carrie Burgher Bender, were born in Yanketown, now Wittenberg, the children of Charles Burgher and his wife, Josephine Shultz. The parents died while Carrie and James were youngsters and for the next several years they made their home with an uncle, Philip Shultz. Their guardian was their uncle, Eli Burgher, who then took the children to his farm where they grew up. Their kind benefactor died in 1911 and the farm became the property of James Burgher. In January, 1913, he was married to Miss Belle Avery who survives him. In 1916 a half interest in the farm was obtained by his brother-in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Avery, where the large and successful summer boarding house business was continued until the famous old Maple Dell was sold to its present owners, Mr. and Mrs. Arfst Johannsen in 1942. After a continued residence as caretakers, Mr. and Mrs. Burgher purchased the adjoining farm property of the late Florence Bell, where after modernizing the house, they continued the boarding house business now known as Laurel Hill Farm. His hobbies were hunting and fishing in which he was highly successful. His loving nature and the surrounding mountains and streams were his delight. As a boy he attended the West Shokan school. Throughout his lifetime he was a regular attendant at the Baptist Church and willingly helped in many ways for its support. Besides his wife and sister, other relatives include and extend to granduncle, Jarvis Burgher of Granville, several cousins, nephews and nieces. Bearers were Supervisor Claude Bell, Judge Lester S. Davis, Joe Winkler, Elwyn C. Davis, the latter an old schoolmate.

The funeral of Mrs. Edward R. Arnold was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Murphy, 27 Smith avenue, at 9:30 o'clock in St. Peter's Church where a high Mass of requiem was offered by the Rev. ## Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 8 (AP)—A blanket of inactivity shrouded the stock market today as the federal government sought to end the coal strike.

A lack of all but routine trading was characteristic. Prices sagged generally without selling pressure in any of the major groups.

Resumption of talks between coal operators and the union under the eye of a federal fact-finder was noted in the stock market, but there was no immediate reaction. Traders, of course, would like to see the results. Right now nobody is guessing at the outcome, despite optimism voiced in Washington by members of the fact-finding board over the possibility of a settlement by tonight.

Steels were mostly lower by small fractions while motors were narrowly mixed. Plus and minus signs in the rail group were about at a stand-off.

Aircrafts were alone in a show of activity on the upside.

Oilco Fight Continues
Albany, N. Y., Feb. 8 (AP)—The battle to legalize the manufacture and sale of yellow oleo was given added impetus last night by a Democratic leader in the movement. Assemblyman Edward V. Curry of Staten Island introduced two bills that would repeal the 68-year-old state ban against pre-colored, yellow oleo.

Says Miners Will Disobey
Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 8 (AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, says coal miners probably will disobey any court injunction issued under the Taft-Hartley law to end the mine strike.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

CRACKERS IN SOUP
An etiquette class in the X High School asks me this question: "Up for discussion today came the question of breaking crackers in soup. I believe it is permissible to break larger ones into the soup the same as one adds small soup crackers. But what is the permitted procedure?"
The only rule is not to put too many in at once. It is best manners to break a few pieces in the soup and eat them and then break a few more and eat them.

Declining Drinks
Dear Mrs. Post: Can one decline to partake of intoxicating drinks without seeming prudish or unfriendly? If so, just how? Our office frequently has holiday parties. Heretofore, I've always taken one drink and gone home on some pretext of having to leave early. I like everybody in the office, but I don't like liquor. I don't like the taste of it and besides, it has been the cause of much unhappiness in my life. Can I abstain from drinking on such occasions without seeming "holier than thou?"

Answer: Certainly you can. You don't have to take even a swallow. The best and most courteous plan is to have your glass only partly filled and hold it in your hand to show you have some. In this case, you need not drink at all.

Place for Napkin
Dear Mrs. Post: On which side of the plate should the napkin be put and how should it be folded? That is, should the open edge be toward the plate or away from it? (We don't set the table with service plates.)

Answer: If there is no service plate it would look better to put the napkin down in place of the plate. If the table is set with food, the napkin is placed on the left of the plate with open edge toward the plate—unless it is folded under and there is no edge.

Using Same Ring Twice
Dear Mrs. Post: What about an engagement ring a man had given to another girl who returned it after wearing it several months? He has this ring and would like to use it again. But can another girl be expected to wear the same ring?

Answer: No—not unless reset.
Mrs. Post's booklet, "Table Service," No. 504, explains how to mark and fold napkins, how to place the flat silver, arrange the flowers and candlesticks. To obtain a copy send 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to her, c/o Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Will Present Comedy
Next Sunday, Monday

The dramatic committee of the Academy of St. Ursula will present its annual play, the comedy, "Come Out of the Kitchen," at two performances on Sunday, February 19, at St. Mary's school auditorium and Monday, February 20, at St. Joseph's school. Both performances will begin at 8 p. m.
Those who remember the nostalgic charm of "Anne of Green Gables," last year's presentation, will enjoy seeing the situation in modern setting provided by Alice Deur Miller's lively story in "Come Out of the Kitchen," adapted for the stage by A. E. Thomas. The play concerns the struggle of the ingenious Dangerfield family to save their old southern mansion which results in wholesale and often hilarious subterfuge.
Tickets are now available and may be purchased from students of the Academy.

Lions Vote Cash For Polio, Scouts

The board of directors of the Kingston Lions Club at a meeting Monday night voted donations of an additional $100 to the March of Dimes polio fund; $50 toward a fund to send 32 boys from Ulster-Greene Council, Boy Scouts of America, to the national jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., June 30 to July 6; and sufficient funds to purchase a Boy Scout uniform for the Children's Home.

The action of the directors was made public at the regular meeting of the Lions Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel Tuesday noon. It was also announced that all booths to the Lions-sponsored Industrial Exposition and Auto Show have been sold. This year, several booths have been allocated without charge to local civic and charitable organizations. The exposition will be held at the state armory March 21 through 25.

Paul Patchen of Kinderhook, Lions district governor for this district, was present at Tuesday's luncheon and gave a brief address.

Farewell Party for Gottfried

Associates of Attorney Herman E. Gottfried, who was counsel in charge of water supply proceedings of the City of New York, tendered him a farewell party Saturday evening at the Hotel Stuyvesant. Mr. Gottfried, who was presented with a handsome legal brief case, has resumed private practice in Margaretville. Robert H. Hugh of New York city has been named successor to Mr. Gottfried. Left to right above are Alfred J. May, Herman E. Gottfried, Francis T. Murray, Paul L. Owens, Theodore R. Lee and Mark Sampson.

Not His Dish

Chicago (AP)—John Ramone, who likes to juggle in his spare time, tossed three dinner plates into the air. He deftly caught No. 1 in one hand and No. 2 in the other. The No. 3 dish landed on his forehead. After the wound was closed with three stitches, he commented: "Well, it always worked with rubber balls."

Sealing is the only source of livelihood for natives of the Fritol Islands.

SPARERIBS TEASE ALL APPETITES

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Staff Writer

With pork products on top of the February list of plentiful foods, spareribs should be high on your menus now.

The Chinese are skillful with spareribs usually served in a sweet-sour sauce as appetizers. They can also be used as the main dish served with rice, pickled turnips and salted almonds.

Sweet-Sour Spareribs

(4 servings)

Two pounds pork spareribs, 1 tablespoon salad oil. Cut spareribs in one-rib pieces and place in large skillet. Cover with hot water, bringing to boil, and simmer 10 minutes. Drain and dry thoroughly. Heat oil in skillet and add spareribs. Turn to brown thoroughly.

One small piece ginger root, 1 clove garlic, crushed, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons soy sauce, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 1 cup water.

Peel ginger root and chop fine. Place in a bowl with garlic. Add the dry and the liquid ingredients. Stir until smooth. Pour over spareribs in skillet and simmer 20 minutes. Serve hot.

On the other side of the world, spareribs are popular, too. Successful Farming Magazine, a far cry from an Oriental cook book, gives this recipe:

Barbecued Spareribs

Serves 6

Place 5 to 6 pounds of ribs cut into servings, meaty side up, in unpeeled lemon and a thin slice of a shallow pan. Place a slice of onion on each portion. Roast at 450 degrees F. (hot oven) for 30 minutes.

Combine 1½ cups of catsup, 1/3 to ½ cup Worcestershire sauce, 1½ teaspoons chili powder, 1½ teaspoons salt, 3 dashes Tabasco sauce and 3 cups of water.

Bring sauce to boiling. Pour over ribs. Continue baking at 350 degrees F. (moderate oven) until tender, about 45 minutes to one hour. Baste the ribs with sauce every 15 minutes. If sauce gets too thick, add water.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Stewed prunes in orange juice, bacon omelet, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, tart jelly, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Baked beans in tomato sauce, whole wheat bread, butter or fortified margarine, cabbage and apple slaw, stewed pears, tea, milk.

DINNER: Barbecued spareribs, mashed potatoes, sauerkraut, poppy seed rolls, butter or fortified margarine, apple pie, coffee, milk.

Electric Tube Has Memory

New York (AP)—A new type oscilloscope, which is similar to a television tube, has been developed. It has a visual "memory" lasting a full minute. Used in laboratory and testing work, it holds on the screen traces of electrical current occurring in a billionth of a second. The oscilloscope is a device, which turns electrical current into a visual pattern so that its functioning can be observed.

Russia Is Old Story

Sofia (AP)—The Russian influence is nothing new in Bulgaria. Anybody who walks six blocks through the center of Sofia has that brought home to him by the names of landmarks along the way. The pedestrian can start at the block-like white limestone mausoleum of Georgi Dimitrov, who came home from Moscow after 22 years in exile to become Communist premier of postwar Bulgaria. The way leads along a boulevard named for Alexander II of Russia. He warred on the Turks for Bulgaria's freedom. Four blocks down stands St.

Alexander Nevsky Bulgarian Orthodox cathedral, named for a thirteenth-century Russian warrior. Ahead is a statue of Alexander on horseback. Beyond that is Marshal Tolstokan street, honoring the Russian leader whose troops were on Bulgarian soil at the time of the 1914 revolt.

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Every bridge player, at some time or other, gets a good story in connection with some hand. I saw Eugene Bauer of New York city the other night and he said, "Bill, I'll bet you never saw a person play a hand at three no trump in which, with a singleton club in dummy and two little clubs in his own hand, he had to lead clubs twice in order to make his contract."

It did sound unbelievable. The clubs could be divided five-five, and why wouldn't the opponents cash their club tricks and set the contract? Bauer said, "But it is true and it happened in the Metropolitan Tournament." To prove his point, he gave me today's hand. Bauer said to tell my readers that he did not justify the bidding, but a true story is better than fiction and three no trump was the final contract.

East won the opening lead of the five of hearts with the ace and returned the nine of hearts. Bauer, sitting South, won this trick with the queen in dummy. He saw he had two heart tricks and five diamond tricks, which was only seven.

Maybe he could scare the opponents away from leading clubs, so he led the king of clubs. West won the trick with the ace. Only West can tell you why he continued with a heart, but he did. South won the trick with the ten-spot. Even now he only had eight tricks.

At this point he cashed his five diamond tricks and the king of hearts. This left him with two little spades and the eight of clubs. Dummy had the king, jack and ten of spades. East, unfortunately, kept the queen of clubs and the ace-queen of spades.

Now Bauer said, "Believe it or not, I led the eight of clubs. East had to win the trick with the queen and there was nothing he could do but cash the ace of spades and give me my ninth trick with the king of spades."

New York, Feb. 8 (AP)—The mercury dropped to 12 degrees above zero at 4:45 a.m. (EST) today, a new low here for this winter. The previous low was 16 degrees on January 8. The record low for the date—February 8—was seven below zero in 1934.

Adler States Stand
Greenwich, Conn., Feb. 8 (AP)—Larry Adler, the harmonica virtuoso, swears he never "knowingly" supported any Communist front organizations. Adler made the statement yesterday at a pre-trial hearing held here in an effort to narrow the issues in his $100,000 libel suit against Mrs. Eleanor R. McCullough of Greenwich which is to be tried in Federal Court at New Haven. No date has been set for the trial. Dancer Paul Draper, who joined Adler in suing Mrs. McCullough for an equal amount, testified at a pre-trial hearing last November, when Adler was in Europe. Draper did not appear here today.

First American-built locomotive to make a successful demonstration run was Peter Cooper's "Tom Thumb," on Aug. 28, 1830.

ULSTER PARK

Ulster Park, Feb. 7—Reformed Church, the Rev. Harry Christians, pastor—Sunday morning service at 9:45 o'clock. Union Sunday school in the Union Center Chapel at 11 a. m. In the near future religious instruction will be held for Protestant children of the district in the church. Instructors have been chosen and the day and time will be announced.

Ulster Grange will hold its regular meeting in the hall Wednesday, Feb. 15, at 8 p. m. Two candidates will receive the first and second degrees. Friday evening, Feb. 17 will hold a dinner at 6 o'clock in observance of two occasions, the burning of the mortgage last November and the 47th birthday of the Grange which is March 3. State Master Henry D. Sherwood will be the speaker. Other guests will be the county deputy, Pomonu master and master of subordinate Granges.

Juvenile Grange, 547, will hold its next regular meeting on Saturday, Feb. 18, at 2:30 p. m. In the home of the matron, Mrs. Lillian Pallas.

Crippled Deer Survives

Missoula, Mont. (AP)—Wildlife oddity in the Blackfoot Valley near here is "Limpy," a buck deer with a crippled hind leg. Ranchers say he was shot as a yearling six years ago. Despite the adage that only the fit survive in the wild, he has been seen each year since. Although he still has a pronounced limp, he's reported hale and hearty despite efforts of hunters, wolves and other predators.

Groshanks Pay Visit

We welcome once again our old friends, the Evening Groshanks, coming from the far north to pay us a winter visit. They are handsome birds, about the size of a robin, sturdily built, with a very thick, light-colored bill, just right for cracking open the hardest of seed cases. The males are yellow with wings of neat black and white and a black tail, a little dusky on head and back. Their ladies are modestly attired in soft silvery gray and beige. They are quite friendly and unafraid of it is usually not hard to get a good look at them.

The other day we saw a little flock, high up in a tall hemlock on the brow of a steep hill, busily and quietly working away at the multitudinous little cones. Friends in Stone Ridge have observed them feasting on the seeds of the box elder. Letters to the New York Tribune report them in Long Island and New Jersey.

I hope many of your readers will have the pleasure of seeing them in their trees or at their feeding stations. The Audubon Society reports that Snowy Owls also have been seen this winter in one of their infrequent periodic southern migrations. These are beneficial birds and should be protected. Very truly yours,

HENRY and JESE LUNBAR

Melodrama Presented

At Recreation Center
Monday afternoon the Junior League of Kingston which holds sessions every day at the Recreation Center directed the children in the presentation of a melodrama.

About 40 children were in the audience and the reception was terrific, although it was hard to judge who enjoyed it the most, the audience or cast.

The production proved so successful and popular that another play will be put on in the near future.

Members of the cast were: Abbie Brown, Manuel Delpopolo; Maud, Audrey Van Dyke; Maggie O'Brien, Marie Chaffin; Patrick, Thelma Wright.

Curtains, horizon and shadows by Aggie Gillespie; curtains, stairs and darkness, Wilma Bell; sun and hours, Iris Carey.

Eighmeys Entertain Couples Club of St. James M.E. Church

The history of the American circus and the activity of people interested in this form of entertainment, and the serving of Japanese food accompanied with a question and answer program on Japanese customs, was the entertainment program presented Tuesday evening to the Couples Club of the St. James Methodist Church by Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Eighmey of 94 Highland avenue.

A detailed account of the growth of the circus in the United States, highlighted by humorous incidents taken from past records, was presented by Eighmey, local model builder, who has been identified with the Kingston Model Railroad Club since its beginning. He recently has been exhibiting a quarter-inch scale model circus throughout the eastern section of the United States. Following the remarks on circus background, the speaker explained the hobby of model circus building and the existence of various circus fan clubs whose purpose is to study and aid the circuses wherever possible. He answered numerous questions by Couples Club members concerning the circus.

Following the circus talk, Eighmey served portions of a regular Japanese meal and answered numerous questions concerning the Orient. Mrs. Eighmey was born in Japan and resided there for 13 years, and her description of events of her childhood proved most interesting to the club members. She revealed that on the occasion of her fifth birthday she was the recipient of "ceremonial cakes" from the daughter of the emperor of Japan, and exhibited a ceremonial wedding bowl which had been presented to her parents upon their marriage and had been passed down through Japanese custom to her when she was married. Mrs. Eighmey was dressed in the regulation Japanese custom and explained many of the customs of the country as she remembered them, even to the incident of her parents acting as "go between" for the marriage of two Japanese Christians whose parents were of the Buddhist faith and who insisted that the custom of having a mediator arrange the wedding must be followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Scudder, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Riel, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hudler arranged the program for the club. The business session was in charge of Thomas Reynolds, president of the club.

Weekly Radio Program

The regular weekly school radio program "Kingston Public Schools on the Air" will be broadcast over Station WKNY tonight at 8. A skit "It Doesn't Pay To Be Ignorant" written by the girls of the Home Economics Department and under the direction of Miss Madeline Tarrant will be presented. Those participating are Betty Jaffer, narrator; Katherine Every, Mrs. Sherman; Janice Goodrich, Susan; Starr Anderson, Mary Jane; Arthur Hutton, Bob; Raymond Simon et al., Mr. Sherman, baby. Donna Hyatt will sing a lullaby. Ramona Leonard will play the piano. News of the schools will be given.

Fellowship Guild Plans

Food Sale for March 17
The Fellowship Guild of the First Presbyterian Church met Tuesday night with Mrs. Gladys Owens, president, in charge.

Plans were discussed to hold a food sale March 17 under the direction of Mrs. Frank Parks and Mrs. Bernard Day, co-chairmen. The place of the sale will be announced.

Tentative plans also were discussed for a ham dinner and card party in April.

Refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Frommer, Mrs. Walter Capnitz and Mrs. James Morrison. Refreshments were in keeping with Valentine's Day.

Junior League Elects Officers

Junior League of Kingston Elects Officers for Year

At a meeting of the Junior League of Kingston held Monday, February 6 at the home of Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker, 322 Albany avenue, the following officers were elected for 1950-51: Mrs. Edward de Groot, president; Mrs. Randolph Winston, vice president; Mrs. Sherwood Davis, treasurer; Mrs. William Darling secretary.

Mrs. William Hutton, the present president, announced that the New York State Department of Health's office of public health education has selected Ulster county as the location of a 20-minute moving picture designed to show what the public health nurse does and especially what the community can do to help them. Volunteers are being asked from the communities of Kingston and Poughkeepsie to help in the project.

Mrs. Henry Parker stated that the latest placement job of the league was with the blood bank, where the league now has four volunteers calling people to donate blood for the hospitals.

Mrs. Herbert Shultz said she had been to two workshop sessions of the Girl Scouts to learn handicraft for use in league classes at the Recreation Center. Anyone interested was advised to phone her and she would accompany them to the next session in March.

It was voted to send the usual annual contribution to the Children's Home.

Mrs. John Schomer asked for one more volunteer to work on Monday evening at the Recreation Center, teaching anything they pleased.

A letter was read from the National Recreation Association thanking the league for its contribution.

A sun lamp has been donated to the loan closet for the use of anyone who wishes to borrow it. Many sickroom articles may be borrowed by calling Mrs. James Norton at the laboratory.

Mrs. Hilton introduced Mrs. De Leslie Allen, director of Region 2, who was visiting the Kingston League. Mrs. Allen said that the board of the Associated Junior Leagues of America was the only one of its kind where the directors traveled and made field trips. She felt that her region was the most representative of them all, having the oldest, largest and smallest leagues in all the regions. New York is the oldest, now 49 years old, and Kingston the smallest. There are 10 leagues in Region 2 with two in Canada.

The director's job is to travel from one to another, helping and advising on problems of membership, policy, projects, etc. She along with other directors has noticed a population shift to the west. San Francisco has 85 on their waiting list of transferred members. Los Angeles has 75. The Junior League is branching out widely in the field of radio. Statistics show that five times a day every day some league is airing a program. There are 122 leagues in radio work now and some are going into television.

Work on cerebral palsy increases. The National Society for Crippled Children and Adults has presented the Associated Junior Leagues of America with a certificate expressing sincere appreciation for the outstanding contribution its chapters have made to the society's cerebral palsy program across the nation.

The country is divided into six sections for the purpose of holding the yearly conference. This year the representatives will be sent from Kingston to the conference at Sun Valley, Idaho.

Mrs. Allen said the league is foremost in understanding by leadership and we can be very proud of work the league is doing. "Never underestimate the power of a woman."

Refreshments were served following the meeting. Mrs. Robert Herzog was co-hostess.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID SNELL (Turck Photo)

Elizabeth M. Roth Becomes Bride Sunday Of David Snell at First Reformed Church

The First Dutch Reformed Church was the setting of the wedding for Miss Elizabeth M. Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor H. Roth of 310 Lucas avenue to David Snell of 197 Bruyn avenue, son of the Rev. and Mrs. James Snell of Lancaster, S. C., Sunday at 3 p. m. The Rev. Mr. Snell, father of the groom, performed the double ring ceremony assisted by the Rev. Arthur J. Oudemool pasteur of the First Dutch Reformed Church. Donald R. Romme, director of music at the church, was the organist. Miss Elizabeth LaFour, soloist, sang "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown made with fitted bodice and Peter Pan collar. Her veil was of French illusion tulle style with headpiece made with matched satin and completely shirred. Her flowers included white roses and freesia. Miss Anne M. Roth, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore a deep open blue gown and carried a bouquet of red roses. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Roth, sister-in-law of the bride and Miss Joan Sicker, cousin of the bride. They wore gowns of deep French rose and carried bouquets of roses. James Snell of Pittsfield, Mass., was best man for his brother. Ushers were Richard V. Roth brother of the bride, and Hugo Schlatter.

A reception followed the ceremony for 50 guests at the home of the bride's parents. Afterward the couple left for a wedding trip through the south. For traveling Mrs. Snell wore a navy blue suit with a corsage of pink roses. They will make their future home at 208 Washington avenue.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School and is secretary for Frederick H. Stang, Ulster county attorney. Mr. Snell was graduated from the University of Tennessee. He was a first lieutenant with the Army Air Force in Italy during World War 2. He is now employed at the Hercules Powder Co.

William Newton, Carolyn E. Ennist, Wed in Phoenicia

Miss Carolyn Edna Ennist, daughter of Mrs. Daniel Franklin Ennist and the late Daniel Ennist of Phoenicia, was united in marriage to William Newton of Torrington, Conn., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newton, Sunday, February 5, at 2 p. m. at St. Francis de Sales Church in Phoenicia. The Rev. John F. Dunne, M.S., pastor, performed the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Garrett Bennett, organist, and Miss Pauline Poschner, soloist, rendered Bach-Gounod's Ave Maria and Pachelbel's Canon. The church decorations included cut flowers and lovebirds.

Escorted by her brother, Harry Jay Ennist, the bride wore a white slipper satin gown made with fitted bodice, illusion neckline, long sleeves and full skirt on train. Her finger ring veil of imported silk illusion was fastened to a tulle of seed pearls and tangle buds. She carried a bouquet of old-fashioned white roses.

Miss Janet L. Conway of Poughkeepsie, as maid of honor wore a maize fault tulle gown with colonial style hat and carried a bouquet of old-fashioned pink roses.

James Orban of Rochester, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man. Ushers were John Newton of Torrington, Conn., brother of the groom and Lawrence D. Ennist, Phoenicia brother of the bride.

A reception for 80 guests followed the wedding ceremony at the parish hall of the church. Miss Poschner sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" during the reception. Guests were present from Buffalo, Rochester, Albany, New York, Torrington, Litchfield, Conn., Saugerties, Oneonta, Veteran and Kingston. The couple left for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C.

For traveling the bride wore a navy blue suit with gray accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses. They will make their future home at West Palm Beach Fla.

Mrs. Newton was graduated from Kingston High School and Our Lady of Victory School of Nursing, Benedictine Hospital. Mr. Newton attended schools in Torrington, Conn., and served with the U. S. Navy for three years. He is employed by the Fluoride Power and Light Company.

Andrew J. Wilbur, Stella M. Tierney Wed at St. Mary's

The wedding of Miss Stella M. Tierney of 6 Hudson street, daughter of the late William and Rose Tierney, to Andrew J. Wilbur of 16 Merritt avenue son of the late Peter and Julia Wilbur of Delaware county, was solemnized Saturday, January 28, at 2 p. m. at St. Mary's Church. The Rev. Edward T. Farrelly, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Church, officiated.

Theodore Riccoboni, organist, presented the traditional wedding music.

Miss Martha Tierney, sister of the bride was maid of honor. Richard L. Wilbur of Syracuse was best man for his father. William Wilbur of 17 Mary's street, nephew of the bride, was usher. They will make their future home at 16 Merritt avenue.

Kingston High Rallies to Trounce Poughkeepsie Blues, 59 to 43

Ron Scheffel Hits 29 In Blazing Comeback

Sam Kallach's Poughkeepsie High School basketball team routed Kingston High's "Iron Men" pretty well in the first half of last night's rugged tussle at the municipal auditorium.

They threw up a tight defense, used their superior height, size and weight to good advantage and had a fast-paced crowd thoroughly scared with a 6-5 quarter lead and a 19-16 half time edge.

Enter an inspired Ronnie Scheffel and the complexion of the game changed just like that. The Maroons quickly regained the lead early in the third period and were never headed to score an impressive 59-43 victory.

Scheffel Terrific
Scheffel is tough enough to stop on an ordinary night, but last night he was something out of this world in the second half. He fired layups, set shots, pop shots, every kind in the book, from every conceivable angle. Even fiery old Sam Kallach, a man who is known to fight for every point in every game, sat back and accepted the inevitable with an air of peaceful resignation.

Scheffel's scoring sequence followed the pattern of the game, ball giants in Bob Gloede and Jim Mullaly, both of whom tower well over six feet, and a giant center, Roger Lewis, the Kallachmen looked just as tough as their record in the first half. It was a grueling display of rock and sock 'em basketball with the Blues shoving their weight around.

A couple of quick baskets—Leonard's followup and Bud Scheffel's layup—put Kingston ahead for the first time, 20-19, a minute after the second half got under way. Mullaly's foul tied it at 20-20, Bud Scheffel hit for two singletons and Gloede faded under for a one-hander and 22-22 deadlock.

That was the high tide of Poughkeepsie's fortunes. In the next four minutes, Ronnie Scheffel and Holstein collaborated on a nine-point spurt that rocketed the Maroons ahead 33-24. Scheffel and Leonard kept pouring on sensational baskets and the Maroons romped in 36-28 at the three-quarter mark.

The fourth period represented a tremendous personal triumph for Scheffel, who outwitted and outmaneuvered the exasperated Blue giants to roll up 14 points. Two of the Blues—Jim Lewis and big Mullaly fouled out.

Five Rugged Men
The contest marked the first time in many moons that Coach Kias resorted to a strict five-man team. Four of the five wound up with three personal fouls charged against them.

Bob Gloede, the blond, fighting center, paced the Kallachmen with 17 points, several of them coming on a brilliant running one-hander he has developed to a high degree of efficiency. Leroy "Eggie" Johnson, the football speedster, tossed in a dozen markers.

Referees Coby Lewis and Chet Dell did a great job under tough circumstances. The Blues came to Kingston prepared to make it a rugged affair and they accomplished their objective. However, the referees were in command all the way and Kingston won the ball game.

Women Keglers Name Delegates to Conventions

With a record breaking attendance of more than one hundred members, the Kingston Women's Bowling Association met at the Y.M.C.A. this week to receive city tournament prize awards, elect delegates to the state and national conventions and discuss details of the forthcoming New York state women's championships.

Duly elected delegates to the New York State Women's Bowling Association convention, which will be held the evening of Saturday, April 1, at the Kingston municipal auditorium, will be Tess Moss, Reta Frederick and Helene Mollenhauer; alternates, respectively, are Evelyn Dolson, Dorothy Rawding and Margaret Trowbridge.

Delegates named to the Women's International Bowling Congress convention, to be held in St. Paul, Minn., in May are Reta Frederick and Dorothy Rawding, with Marge Jensen and Helen Murphy as alternates.

Outline Plans
Reta Frederick, KWBA secretary, and general chairman of the New York State Women's Bowling Association Tournament outlined plans for the tournament. She announced that attendance at the annual state convention is not limited to delegates, and all members of the Kingston Women's Bowling Association were urged to attend both the convention in the evening and the annual breakfast in the morning of April 1. Reservations for the breakfast may be made with Chris Wilson, breakfast chairman.

Evelyn Dolson, president of KWBA and chairman of scorekeepers and workers for the state tournament announced that a list of no less than 100 workers will be needed, and urgently requested that additional workers sign up as soon as possible. All workers in the tournament will be compensated at an hourly rate, and any who have not obtained social security numbers are asked to do so immediately at the Social Security Administration office in the post office building.

President Dolson announced that Margaret Moller had been appointed to succeed Marguerite Logan as Sunshine Fund chairman and team captains are requested to notify Miss Moller of any requirements for cards or flowers for team members enrolled for the sunshine fund.

Teal's 65 Wins First In Texas Open Prelim

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 8 (AP)—Glen Teal, Memphis, Tenn., with a six-under-par 65 won top money yesterday in the pro-amateur preliminary to the Texas Open golf tournament.

Paired with R. B. McFarlin of San Antonio, Teal was low pro and split pro-amateur prize money with Al Brosch of Garden City, L. I. Brosch was teamed with John Newman of San Antonio.

Each pair had a best ball of 62, nine under par for the Oak Hills course. Third place went to pro Ray Hill and Ray Kilian of San Antonio, with a 63.

The open tournament begins tomorrow. Teal and Brosch got $275 each for their pro-amateur showing. Teal got $300 as low pro. Ray Hill of Chicago collected $150.

Low pro money winners included Milan Marusic, Albany, N. Y., 34-34—68, $121.25.

London—Les Warren, 157%, Wilmington, Del., outpointed Albert Fitch, 161, London, 10.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Joe Louis and Nino Valdez, Havana, boxed four-round exhibition.

Walcott Starts New Comeback

Philadelphia, Feb. 8 (AP)—Jerry Joe Walcott shuffles into the arena ring here tonight to see if there's boxing life in the old boy yet.

As usual, the ageless Negro with the "cutie" style has picked no soft touch. He may find himself in 10 very tough rounds against youthful Harold Johnson, 22-year-old Negro light heavyweight who occasionally ventures into the heavyweight division.

Walcott hasn't fought since last Aug. 14, when he knocked out Ole Tandberg of Sweden in five rounds. Too, the Camden, N. J., father of six, celebrated his 36th birthday this week. That's a mighty old age in the fight business.

Probably Joe's age never was brought home to him as vividly as it was the other day when it was discovered that he had once knocked out the father of the fighter he's meeting tonight. It was 14 years ago when Walcott knocked out Haroh's father, Phil Johnson. That most unusual angle alone seems sure to pull a sizeable crowd into the arena for the goings on, starting about 10 p. m. (E.S.T.).

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)
New Bedford, Mass.—Sammy Walker, 156½, Springfield, knocked out Horace Bailey, 152½, New York, 6.
Buffalo, N. Y.—Carmen Basilio, 144½, Christofa, N. Y., stopped Adrien Morgart, 146, Paris, France, 7.

Shaver and Streeter Pace Battery A Win

Massa Wins First Billiard Victory

Carlson "C.N." Massa gained his first victory in the city pocket billiard tournament last night by defeating Frank Schilling, 125-70, at the Kaslich Parlor.

Schilling, a victim of bad rolls, led in the early stages, 11-2, 18-4 and 21-11, but Massa, the 9-ball snook, moved ahead 37-27 and stayed there all the way.

Massa's steady shooting put him in front 67-51, later at 90-54 and then 104-66. He knocked off high scores of 14 and 15. Schilling had 13 and 15.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Vernon Lefty Gomez, the classy Castilian who attributes his distinguished major league pitching career to "clean living and a fast outfield," proved to be what the Broadway trade calls a smash hit in his appearance before the Kingston Athletic Association Monday night at the Barn. Senior Gomez, who has been a wittier in all the realm of sports, received an able assist from Ruby Goldstein, the reformed pugilist, who is America's top boxing referee and a dispenser of spiritual uplift on the side.

President Dick McCarthy and his K.A.A. gang can take a bow for another sockeroo show.

• The Gomez Legend:

Gomez's greatness as a public speaker and his mastery of the brisk repartee had the crowd roiling with laughter, but it was his off the cuff remarks in answers to queries from the floor that really produced the belly laughs. Goldstein discoursed along more serious lines, regaling the gathering with a stock of breezy boxing stories. The one-time "Jewel of the Ghetto" in New York boxing said his public speaking career had been launched by the Army in the Aleutians or "just about as far as you can get on this continent without getting off it."

The lean left-hander who won 198 games in his big league career, joked about his hitting and his famous collaboration with Johnny Murphy, the Yankee relief pitcher who was killed in the war.

Admitting that he was flattered by the rising ovation he was accorded when introduced by Toastmaster McCarthy, Gomez quipped: "I pitched before some pretty big crowds but I never saw so many people stand up at the same time. . . . I was never around for the seventh inning stretch. . . . Lefty then told about the time Jimmy Foxx was at the plate with the bases loaded. (Foxx gave El Goofy plenty of heartaches during his career.) He shook Bill Dickey off on the curve, the fast ball and finally the change of pace. An exasperated Dickey stormed out to the mound.

"What's going on Lefty," barked Dickey (abridged version). "Nothing," yawned Gomez, "I just figured that if I held on the ball he can't hit. Maybe he'll get tired and go back to the bench."

• Rodriguez in the Act:

Bill Gully, 11-year-old son of "Red" Gully of the Freeman composing room, gave Lefty quite a workout in the question and answer period. One of the questions the perfectly thrilled youngster tossed at Lefty was "Who was the better shortstop, Rixusito or Crockett?" "Both great," replied Lefty, "but if Crockett could have batted a few points higher he would rank with the all-time shortstop greats." Tony Rodriguez, the one-time Hercules Matador of local boxing distinction, flattered Gomez with a couple of remarks. "I saw you once when you made four hits against Washington," said Tony, "and later I saw you walk the first three batters, give three balls to the fourth and pull out of the jam and go on to pitch a three-hit shutout."

"Say, man, you ought to be here speaking through this mike so everybody can hear you," observed Lefty with a smile that wile.

• Tributes to Gehring and Pennock:

"Charley Gehring, the Detroit second baseman, was the toughest batter for me," El Goofy reminisced, "but Foxx hit them further. I hold the record for a long distance clout in the Yankee Stadium. . . . Foxx hit it off me. . . . Herb Pennock was the greatest pitcher I ever saw, and that includes Lefty Grove and Carl Hubbell. . . . Foxx was so tough that when he stood at the plate with his shirt sleeves cut short over those blacksmith arms, he gripped the bat so tight you could see the sawdust dripping from the bottom. The Yankee uniform does something to a player. I will always cherish the memory of playing ball with Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Joe DiMaggio, three of the all-time greats.

Gomez holds the record for World Series pitching triumphs without a defeat—six—and seems quite proud of the fact, although he can see the lighter side of the achievement.

He mentioned the time a breathless, old fan rushed up to him after a clambake and panted:

"Hey, Lefty, do you know you never lost a World Series game?"

"Well, for that matter," came Lefty's calm reply, "did you ever lose one?" They picked up the corpse.

JVs Trip Blues, 67-42; Hooker Hits for 25

Leroy Hooker set the pace with 25 points as a highly geared K.H.S. Jayvee squad shattered an eight-game winning streak of the Poughkeepsie High School yearlings, 67-42, last night in the preliminary at the municipal auditorium.

Three other Maroons hit in double figures to keep the locals ahead 12-6 at the quarter and 27-15 at halftime. Coach Bill Hurley's cagers poured in on with a 40-point second half.

Hook hit a dozen times from the field and added a singleton. Charlie Tiano tossed in eleven points from the center slot, while Spohrer and Hinkley accounted for ten apiece.

Gattine was the leading scorer for Poughkeepsie with 14 markers, while Warman kicked in with 10 for the Blues.

Wanted: Monkey Catcher

New Delhi (AP)—Want an outdoor job with lots of live prospects? They need a monkey catcher here. The field hasn't been worked since 1947. A newly-hired monkey catcher, a Moslem, left India suddenly during the communal riots of that year before getting down to work. Hindus won't take the job because monkeys are sacred to them. Besides perpenetrating such annoyances as swiping golfballs right off the greens, the monkeys are occasionally vicious. Captured monkeys will be deported rather than killed. Municipal President Yudhvir Singh thinks they might bring some much-needed dollars in U. S. trade.

Jaspers' 2900 Leads Class A; Franks', Herzogs Also in Front

City Tourney Teams Enter Third Day

Jasper's Restaurant, defending City League champions, and current leaders are pacing Class A in the city tournament with 2900, after two days of firing in the 14th annual classic at the Bowldrome. Frank's Sport Shop has moved into first place in Class B with 2782, while Herzog's rolled 2560 for top rung among the Class C keepers.

Jaspers bowled consistently for their 2900, stacking games of 518, 1012 and 970 with a 33-pin handicap pull per set. Johnny Ferraro anchored the squad with 213-585. Larry Weiskaupt tossed in 210-571; Richard Howard 209-210; Jimmy Secreto 210-587 and Ray Roux 492.

Groco's Open Fast

Groco Brothers of the Ferraro Classic League opened with 1019 last night but failed to hold the pace and wound up in second place with 2858. Other Class A teams still in the money are Colombis 2787, Vining and Smith 2767, Jones Dairy 2753 and United Pharmacy 2746.

Len Freer was the sparkplug in the 2782 total that vaulted Frank's Sport Shop into first place in the B division. The shirtmaker hit for 166, 182, 208-536. Ken Radel had 512, Jim Pruden 479, Jake Chichelsky and J. Mallet 498. Herzogs with a 60-pin handicap, batted out games of 817-914-829 in the C division. Cleon Robinson was the big gun with 208-508; J. Hornbeck anchored with 483, J. Zammillo hit 493, D. Zoidler 453 and J. Bartsch 441.

Flemings Leads

George Flemings, of Jake's Grill, took over the individual leadership in Class A, with a 234 solo and 602 triple. Ed Schussler's 252 is top B single and Chris Aldersleeve leads the triples with 589.

Cleon Robinson and Al Cross are Class C leaders with 208 and 523 respectively.

The leading triples were fashioned as follows:

(A)—C. Flemings . . . 180 234 179 492
(B)—C. Schussler . . . 172 208 311 589
(C)—A. Cross . . . . . 188 180 178 523

The two-day firing produced several other outstanding individual scores. Carl Beatty fired 216-587; J. Thompson 225, Charlie Horne 225, Buster Ferraro 226-597; A. Fondino 554, Adam Thiel 218-549, Ed Schussler 232-544; Larry Jacobs 218-554.

Also, J. Benicase 543; Phil Masters 209-557; Angelo Ferraro 210-551; Ad Jones 204-576; John MacLellan 576, Roland Post 208-553; Lottie Cashara 200-567; Sheldon Levy 201-566; Don Hornbeck 231-543; Hank Kemmerer 205-577; Frank Russano 209-542; Lou Guadagnola 203-593; Harry Smith 220-555.

Schulers Win 93-46 Over Fuller Cagers

Fitzgerald, Marable Put on Great Show

There is something inspirational about the Fuller basketball team of the Y.M.C.A. League. The way they inspire other teams to strategic totals.

Last night it was Schuler's Inn that had its scoring vigors restored after being exposed to Fullers for a few minutes. The result—a resounding 93 to 46 triumph.

Three men hit for better than 20 points in the Schuler lineup. Carter, clicked for 24, while Beaver McCordle and Gruenwald each had 22. Melnick centered with a mere 18. Over on the other side of the house, Tailleu scored 14 and Hooker 12 for Fullers.

Schulers led 38-8 at the quarter and 39-24 at half-time. They then proceeded to rack up 54 points in the second half.

Sixth Ward almost upset the Willywicks Motor apartment before yielding 54-57 in a rugged game in which a little more passwork would have done them a world of good.

Willywicks led all the way but better teamwork by Sixth Ward might have changed the result. Gene Fitzgerald was at his best with several sensational shots from a running dribble while Charlie Marable's one-hand spinners and underneath were pleasing to the eye. Fitzgerald was the individual star with 23 points.

while Marable tossed in 16. Ferrell McElrath paced Willywicks with 15 markers, with Bob Hunt and "Pappy" Sickler scoring a dozen apiece. Sickler made all his six deuces from 20 feet or more on set shots.

ROSENDALE NEWS

Report Is Given On Local Library

Rosendale, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Anna Auchmoody, custodian of Rosendale's public library, was guest at a recent meeting of the Rosendale Women's Club, and gave a report on the status quo of the library.

The library was started by a former young women's group known as the Comas Club, no longer in existence. At the time the library was opened a supply of books was obtained every six months from the state. Later, with funds raised by activities of the Comas Club enough money was obtained to purchase a large number of books and build a reserve library fund. Donations of books have also been made by individuals in the community.

With the funds on hand it has been a practice to purchase one new book a month. Mrs. Auchmoody stated that the library fund had diminished to the point where there was only enough left for the purchase of one more book, when an offer of help from the Women's Club was made.

The Rosendale Women's Club is now acting as sponsor to raise funds to again build up a reserve for purchasing new books for the Rosendale public library. As a start, members attending the last meeting agreed to contribute $1. $15.00 was collected from members present and turned over to Mrs. Auchmoody for immediate use. Each member will endeavor to interest a friend or neighbor in contributing $1 to the fund, and various other organizations will be contacted in an effort to interest their members in participating in the library fund campaign.

The Women's Club is also recommending more widespread use of the Rosendale public library. No deposit is required, and books are loaned without charge. The library is located in Mrs. Auchmoody's store on Main street.

4-H Girls Named Heart Sponsors
Rosendale, Feb. 8.—At the regular meeting of the Rosendale 4-H Club at the home of Mrs. Harry Wesp on Monday evening the members continued work on the project of "Fruits Delights" with the preparation of fruit salad. There were 12 members present.

The 4-H Girls Club has been named the official sponsor for the Heart Fund campaign for the town of Rosendale. Contributions will be on a voluntary basis. There will be no house-to-house canvassing. The red plastic heart-shaped contribution boxes have been placed in Rosser's market, Mulligan's garage, Vaughn's pharmacy and the Chalea bowling alleys in Rosendale; McEvoy's grocery in Bloomington; Gagnon's store in Cottekill and at the Williams Lake Hotel.

The campaign will continue to the end of February. Contributions from individuals and organizations may be made to either Miss Louella Wilson or Mrs. Harry Wesp, leader and assistant leader of the Rosendale 4-H Club.

Ladies' Aid to Meet
Rosendale, Feb. 8.—The Ladies' Aid of the Tillson Dutch Reformed will meet at the church hall on Thursday at 8 p. m.

Citizenship Plan Is Inaugurated
Rosendale, Feb. 8.—At the regular meeting of the Rosendale Women's Club which convened on Wednesday evening at Fiedler's Mountain View House in Lawrenceville, a program of citizenship was inaugurated with Mrs. Joseph Hill as leader. The topic for discussion was the current investigation of Unemployment Insurance.

The Pennsylvania Railroad said "it has been necessary and will continue to be necessary to appropriate some coal" from shipments being carried from the mines to wholesalers.

The railroad, one of six which had furloughed employees, said: "We have only a week's supply of coal on hand and it will be necessary to make certain additional curtailments next week if there is a wholesale suspension of coal mining this week."

The Wheeling Steel Corp. said it will cut production 50 per cent Friday.

The soft coal miners walked out this week after Lewis rejected a fact finding panel plan which Mr. Truman had offered.

"That forced the President to invoke the emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act, even though he has fought for the act's repeal."

The Taft-Hartley Board of Inquiry Mr. Truman named cannot recommend a settlement. But the President must wait for its report before directing Attorney General McGrath to petition the court for an injunction.

"That may touch off an unprecedented showdown between the miners and the government. Lewis has hinted the miners either will defy a court back-to-work order or will lift their tools very slowly if forced to work."

After 80 days they would be free to strike again, Mr. Truman could then ask for new legislation to cope with such a situation.

The inquiry board consists of three labor attorneys and arbitrators—Chairman David L. Cole of Paterson, N. J., W. William Wirtz of Northwestern University, and John Dunlop of Harvard University.

Acting on a complaint filed by the coal operators, General Counsel Robert N. Druehl of the National Labor Relations Board has asked the Federal District Court for an injunction to halt alleged unfair bargaining practices by Lewis.

Judge Richmond B. Keech is studying the arguments in the case. Should he rule before Mr. Truman goes after a Taft-Hartley injunction, it might provide a break in the bargaining deadlock.

If the President gets an injunction, the union would be subject to a contempt citation. Two previous contempt citations have cost Lewis and his union $2,130,000.

Lewis has never made known his contract demands. But agreements he has signed with mines producing about one-tenth of the nation's soft coal provide a 35-cent-a-day wage boost, to a total of $15 a day, and a 15-cent boost in the present 20-cent-a-ton royalty paid into the miners' welfare fund.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

Progress Is Made On Water System

Woodstock, Feb. 8.—Steady progress is being made throughout the winter on the Woodstock water system. The standpipe on the Meade's Mountain road was recently completed by the Pittsburgh, DeMott Steel Co. of New York and cost approximately $8,000.

The pump house on the Bears-ville road, which is being constructed by Percy Short, is nearing completion and work continues on the valve chamber nearby.

Grant Elwyn, town clerk, reports that about 200 residents of Woodstock have made application for water and many more requests are expected.

As soon as the weather permits the Peckham Road Corporation of White Plains, will resume its part of the project in laying pipe.

Evening of Games Enjoyed by Riders

Woodstock, Feb. 8.—The Woodstock Riding Club, Inc., held its first evening of games at the hall of the Dutch Reformed Church Wednesday, Feb. 1. Mrs. Leon H. Smith and her committee, Mr. and Mrs. Griffin Herriek, Mrs. Virgil Van Wageningen and Samuel Adams were in charge.

Approximately 40 people, club members and their friends, enjoyed the social evening and refreshments.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held Wednesday, Feb. 15, at 8 p. m. in the Dutch Reformed Church hall.

To Meet Monday

Woodstock, Feb. 8.—The Woodstock Fish and Game Club will meet Monday, February 13 at 8 p. m. at the club house at the recreation field.

Zena Club Party

Woodstock, Feb. 8.—A party will be given at the Zena County Club Saturday, February 11 in the evening. There will be both square and round dancing and refreshments.

Legion Auxiliary Plans Card Party

Woodstock, Feb. 8.—The American Legion Auxiliary of Post 1020, will hold a card party at the Legion Hall Monday, February 13 at 8:15 p. m. All kinds of games will be played and refreshments will be served. A free will collection will be taken for the poor. Mrs. John Wolven, chairman, will be assisted by the following committee: Mrs. Everett Cashdollar, Mrs. Henry Grazer, Mrs. Harry Kutzschbach, Mrs. Clayton Harder, Mrs. Florence Peper and Mrs. Fennel Frankling. Proceeds from the party will be used to assist polo games in the village. It has been announced that the American Legion donated $10 to the March of Dimes and the Auxiliary $10.

Public May See Plans for School

Woodstock, Feb. 8.—It has been announced in connection with the new six-room elementary school building to be erected in Woodstock School District 2, that forms of proposal, of contract, general conditions, plans and specifications may be examined at the office of the clerk of the school district on Library Lane, Woodstock, on or after February 10, between 10 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Opening bids for general construction, heating and ventilating, plumbing and electrical work for the school will be received by the Board of Trustees Common School District 2, Town of Woodstock, at the Town Hall at 3 p. m. on March 10, at which time all proposals submitted will be opened and publicly read.

Open Beaver Season Begins February 13

Woodstock, Feb. 8.—Open season on beavers begins February 13 in Ulster county. Beavers may only be caught by trap and no one is exempt from obtaining a trapping license. Each person obtaining a license may not use more than 10 traps or take more than three beavers during the season. Further instructions state that no traps may be set on or in houses, on dams or in holes. The spread of the trap jaws should not exceed six inches and the trap must bear a tag with the trapper's name and resident address. The traps should not be set until 7 a. m. on the opening day and not after 6 p. m. on the last day of the season, which is February 22.

Girl Scouts Hold Valentine's Party

Woodstock, Feb. 8.—The Brownie Scouts gave a Valentine party Tuesday afternoon at the Woodstock Fire Hall. Games and refreshments were enjoyed. Mrs. R. J. Lapo, chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Edna DeWitt, Mrs. Alice Wolven and Dorothy Shultz, and Louella Lapo and Genevieve Reil, who were formerly of Troop 25. Next Tuesday, at 3:45 p. m., the Girl Scout Troop 74, led by Mrs. Theodore Lee, will witness the investiture of eight members from the Brownies to the Girl Scout troop. The girls who will receive their pins are Kathie Forno, Elizabeth Lee, Nancy Cstrandler, Bonnie May Wilbur, Susan White, Karen King, Lynn Wright and Anne Russell.

Woodstock Cagers Have Good Night

Woodstock, Feb. 8.—Three basketball games were played last Friday in the Town Hall and all three were victories for Woodstock.

On Saturday night, the Varsity was defeated 56-50 by Saugerties after traveling there to play the game.

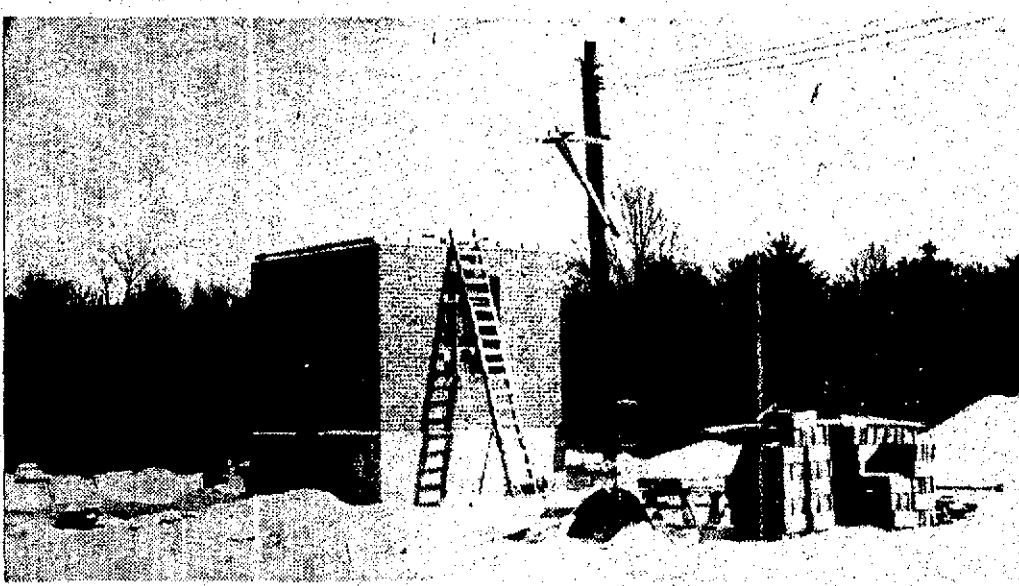

The Woodstock Jayvees played two games last Friday. In the first Jayvee encounter, Woodstock defeated the Manor Aces 51-42. Paul Van Wageningen scored 21 points to top the Woodstock list and Peters and Schroeder each scored 10. Dick Taille of the Aces poured in 16 as his teammate Rakon tossed in 13 points.

The Woodstock Varsity poured it on Windham by 83-36. Wilson contributed 33 points to Woodstock's total. Klein accounted for 14 points. Zegel, Windham center sunk seven fields and three fouls which combined totaled 17 points for his team. Sakall found the basket and deposited 20 points.

The lineup changed for the second Jayvee squabble which was at times a wild helter-skelter affair. Schroeder received an eye injury during the first game and did not play in the second. The second string was put in one by one while the first stringers dropped out of the picture. Woodstock defeated the Paper Makers of Saugerties 45-28. Paul Van Wageningen was high scorer with 10 points and Ennis was high with 11 points for the Paper boys.

Woodstock took it on the chin Saturday in Saugerties by 56-50. A poor first half exhibition cost the local basketballers the game.

Particular Care Is Shown in Art By George Ault

Woodstock, Feb. 7.—Of the George Ault memorial show which is now at the Milch gallery in New York, art critic Carlyle Burrows of the New York Herald Tribune, wrote the following in the art section Sunday, Feb. 5: "George Ault was not a prolific painter and what he accomplished at best can be told with a modest showing. Twenty oils in the exhibition and 10 watercolors and drawings are ample enough. "Ault believed that a meticulous realism, simplified to its fullest extent, was truly the essence of abstract art. That, at any rate, is the fact most implicit in his street scenes, landscapes and figures which are executed with particular care, clarity of detail and color, and which are organized simply, with the simplest of forms carrying the burden of what in effect is a poetic extension of the reality of representation. Beyond such simplicity, into the realm of a deeper analysis of abstract values, the artist did not go. Signs of growth, of the development of a richer, more romantic grasp of his problems are, however, apparent in his work. "From 'The Stairway' an interior of 1921, with its clean description of the provocative angularities of a museum-like setting, Ault carried his art through landscapes of prim, poetic almost primitive simplicity, such as his 'Old House, New Moon,' to designs such as 'The Cable Station,' where an ascending note of romance enters slightly into the decorative and rhythmic context of the subject. Figures of smooth contour and lightness of touch recall an apparent interest in Derain. In 'Universal Symphony' the final phase of his work brings him closer to Steeler, and his careful selecting and balancing of structural results in a form of the simplest of decorative designing."
